LOCKPORT, Man. (CP)—Four infants, ranging in age from six months to five years, were burned to death early today in a fire that destroyed their three-storey home here.

Their mother suffered burns and was taken to hospital at Selkirk, five miles north of here. The father had left for work at Winnipeg, 17 miles south of Lockport, about one hour before the fire.

The victims, children of Mr. and Mrs. Florent Charette, were: Richard, 5; his sister, Brenda, 3, and brothers Victor, 20 months, and Dennis, six months.

Cause of the fire was not immediately known although neighbors said they heard an explosion about 9 a.m., and then saw the house enveloped in flames.

Mrs. Charette ran from the only door of the house into a field.

"Save my children," she screamed.

Her screams attracted two neighbors, Ross Marcus and Doug Brodie. Neither could enter the house through the door because of the fierce heat and flames.

Mr. Brodie chopped a hole in the rear of the building but again was kept out by flames.

Within an hour the house was destroyed and the bodies of the children could be seen.

Two of the children were in bed when the fire started and the youngest was in a baby carriage.

Socred Leader Solon Low Quitting Active Politics

By DON ATTFIELD

OTTAWA (CP)—Solon Low is bowing out of active politics.

The stage for the Social Credit leader's swan song was a meeting Monday night of Ottawa Young Progressive Conservatives.

He said he is handing in his resignation this week and returning to southern Alberta to find the life he left 23 years ago when he entered politics.

Health and age were given as his reasons.

No significance was to be attached to his making the announcement at a Progressive Conservative meeting. The young PCs had invited him to speak and it was his last public appearance before resigning.

Social Credit's 19 representatives all were defeated by Conservatives in the March 31 PC sweep to power. Mr. Low lost his own Peace River seat, after holding it from 1945.

He said he has accepted a teaching position at Raymond High School. He was principal of the same school in the beet-growing community in 1935 when he entered the provincial legislature to serve 10 years with William Aberhart's original Social Credit government.

FIERY AND SHARP

He spoke with his usual fire and sharpness although his voice softened when he began speaking of the future. He said Social Credit is not destroyed. "But the movement is going to require the leadership of a younger man, unimpaired in health. I feel I should step down."

Mr. Low, 58, suffered a heart attack in November, 1955. "I feel I am entering a new period of life, in which I can look at things from the outside."

He said he has accepted a teaching position at Raymond High School. He was principal of the same school in the beet-growing community in 1935 when he entered the provincial legislature to serve 10 years with William Aberhart's original Social Credit government.

Eversfield took the papers from the offices of one of the accused companies, Pacific Coast Services, when he left his bookkeeper's job there in 1955.

At one point this morning, he became so confused and took so long to sort out a group of several documents that Mr. Justice J. O. Wilson remarked: "Mr. Eversfield, if you find it impossible to put them in proper sequence, say so. Don't take all day. I don't think it's worth it."

HOT 'N' DRY WITH ONE EYE ON U.S. CLOUDS

The Victoria weatherman is continuing to exercise his dry sense of humor—with a slight hedge while he keeps an eye on a mass of moist air over Oregon and Washington.

Forecast for the next 24 hours is continued warm, dry, with some high cloud.

Temperatures will be in the high 60s along the coastline. In the high 70s and low 80s in inland areas protected from the sea breeze.

There have been thunderstorms near Pendleton and Portland, which might move in this direction later in the week.

WIRE BRIEFS

Gas Blast Traps Duplex Occupants

MONTREAL (UP)—An explosion almost demolished a two-storey duplex dwelling in suburban Verdun today and police believe some of the residents were trapped in the wreckage.

The blast, believed to have been a natural gas explosion, levelled one section of the duplex and badly damaged the adjoining house.

New Border Clash

JERUSALEM, Israel (UPI)—A Syrian force opened fire on two Israeli surveyors working northeast of Lake Huleh this morning, an army spokesman announced today.

An Israeli patrol, accompanying surveyors, returned from the fire which came from a Syrian position near the village of Ein Tina, the spokesman added.

Alaska Statehood Out

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House of Representatives voted today to kill a bill to grant Alaska statehood. The action is subject to reversal later.

Fish, Power Project

VANCOUVER (CP)—More than $2,000,000 will be spent this year in B.C. and Pacific Northwest states of the U.S. on research into problems of maintaining salmon runs in rivers used for development of hydro-electric power, the fisheries department said today.

Pilot From U.S. At Controls Of Downed Bomber

JAKARTA (AP)—The Indonesian army said tonight the pilot of a rebel Indonesian bomber shot down by government forces is an American.

The army identified him as Allan Lawrence Pope of Miami, Fla.

The army said Pope was one of two airmen captured after their U.S.-built B-26 bomber was shot down in flames near Ambon May 18 while attacking Indonesian government ships.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Netherlands protested today against reported U.S. arms deliveries to Indonesia.

France Tense As de Gaulle Makes Bid

Left Wing Fights Move; Pflimlin Asks Confidence Vote

PARIS (UPI)—Gen. Charles de Gaulle announced today he is preparing to take over the government in a legal manner.

But left-wing opposition to him mushroomed so swiftly it increased the threat of civil war.

Premier Pierre Pflimlin, his authority crumbling by the hour, refused to step down and decided to let the National Assembly choose tonight between him and de Gaulle.

A cabinet spokesman revealed the premier's decision after Pflimlin held two meetings with President Rene Coty and long sessions with his own cabinet.

The cabinet source, revealing Pflimlin's desperate answer to de Gaulle's bid to take over power, said Pflimlin personally met with the general Monday night.

MORE SERIOUS

The former wartime resistance leader warned the premier then that the threat of civil war was becoming more serious with every passing hour.

Other reports from Algiers said three battalions of insurgent paratroopers had been ready to jump into southern France if de Gaulle had not made an open move today to end the crisis.

In making his bid, de Gaulle seemed confident of success, urged the nation to remain calm and promised quick contact with the insurgent generals in Algeria in whom "I express my confidence."

His overtures to the Algerian rebels seemed likely to settle any trouble from the right, since the military-civilian junta there has based its stand on a demand for de Gaulle's return to power. But trouble loomed from the left.

The Socialists of the National Assembly voted 112 to 3 in a caucus against accepting de Gaulle as premier. Without their support, he could not constitutionally win power.

Communist parliamentary chief Jacques Duclos declared that "a new Vichy is being prepared," a reference to the discredited wartime regime set up by Marshal Philippe Petain at the central France town of Vichy.

The Communist-led General Confederation of Labor called out railroad workers at noon.

De Gaulle himself was waiting in readiness at his home in Colombey-les-Deux-Eglises, 150 miles east of Paris, for a presidential summons—his car prepared for an immediate take-off.

The balky and unpredictable French national assembly was debating Pflimlin's sweeping bill for constitutional reform.

The bill would make it almost impossible to overthrow a French government and it was the reported plan that Pflimlin would resign, once the bill was passed, to make way for de Gaulle's investiture in his place.

But informed sources said Pflimlin told Coty he might well be defeated tonight on the bill.

CHANCES SLIM

A defeat would mean Pflimlin's automatic resignation and a summons from Coty to de Gaulle.

But under those conditions de Gaulle's chances for success would be slim.

In that case, France could continue its plunge toward chaos, with what many fear would be either a military government or a Communist-dominated "popular front."

NO COMMENT

There was no comment from either company or union this morning.

Three seamen's unions involved in pay disputes with CPR were scheduled to meet with the company for further talks in Vancouver this afternoon.

Earlier today, a top official of one of the unions involved in pay negotiation with Black Ball Ferries Ltd., accused the company of threatening to curtail services between Vancouver and Nanaimo if the unions refused to permit settlement of disputes by compulsory arbitration.

Richard Greaves, national secretary of the National Association of Marine Engineers of Canada, told the Times the com-

BOOM IN PARIS STOCK MARKET

PARIS (Reuters)—Shares boomed on the Paris stock market today immediately after Gen. Charles de Gaulle announced he had begun steps to form a government.

The news was flashed to the Bourse in mid-session. Stocks had barely held steady until then.

MELLOWED since his days as a tough wartime resistance leader, Gen. Charles de Gaulle is the man of the hour in France today.

FRENCH TROUBLE SPOTS

Grenade Bursts On Algeria Mob

TIZI OUZOU, Algeria—A hand grenade exploded today in a throng of 20,000 Moslems gathered outside the city hall for a rally by the pro-Gaullist military-civilian junta.

Several persons were injured but there was no panic in the crowd of Berber tribesmen. They had been brought down from the Kabylie mountains to hear speeches by Gen. Raoul Salan, head of Algeria's insurgent French rulers, and Gaullist deputy Jacques Soustelle.

A Moslem mayor from a nearby community was addressing the crowd when the grenade went off. Ambulances went to the scene and carried off several victims dripping with blood.

A French officer told a reporter the explosion was caused accidentally by a military grenade carried by a French soldier.

Garrison Menaced

TUNIS—A French spokesman said today that the Tunisian authorities are adopting "menacing" measures against French garrisons.

Canada Anxious

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker said today the government is watching developments in France with deep anxiety.

However, he declined in the Commons to comment on the present situation when asked by Opposition leader Pearson for a report.

Corsica Coup Complete

BASTIA, Corsica—All Corsica today was in the hands of the French Army's anti-government revolt leaders.

The uprising, which spread here from Algeria on Saturday, had encompassed the entire island birthplace of Napoleon.

Col. Robert Thomazo, special envoy from Gen. Raoul Salan's Algerian headquarters, was unanimously acclaimed as military and civil commander.

Navy Manoeuvres

MARSEILLE—Twelve destroyers and five submarines sailed from Toulon naval base early today for what navy officials there said would be a month's manoeuvres in the Atlantic.

They will rendezvous at sea with their flagship the cruiser Degrasse, and its escorting vessels, which are due to leave Toulon late today or early Wednesday.

Mediator Named in Ferry Strike

Appointment of a federal mediator in an attempt to settle the 10-day-old Seafarers' International Union and Canadian Merchant Service Guild in Vancouver this morning.

He said Black Ball called on the unions to accept compulsory arbitration, and when the suggestion was turned down by all three associations, they then "hinted they would have to curtail services, which would result in a lot of seamen layoffs."

Mr. Greaves' charge was termed "surprising" by Black Ball president Col. George Paulin.

There was no comment from either company or union this morning.

Earlier today, a top official of one of the unions involved in pay negotiation with Black Ball Ferries Ltd., accused the company of threatening to curtail services between Vancouver and Nanaimo if the unions refused to permit settlement of disputes by compulsory arbitration.

Richard Greaves, national secretary of the National Association of Marine Engineers of Canada, told the Times the com-

"I was not at the meeting," he said, "but as far as I know Black Ball has no plans to curtail services."

Col. Paulin added negotiations between the company and the union would "continue until there is a settlement" and he did not expect a strike.

After rejecting the idea of arbitration, the three unions scheduled another meeting with Black Ball later in the week.

Earlier, Mr. Greaves told the Times his union "did not take kindly to arbitration of any sort," while a statement rejecting CPR's arbitration suggestion was issued today by Capt. W. E. Meadows, agent for the guild representing 40 masters and mates who voted for strike action in a pay dispute with the line.

The union statement read: "We are quite willing to accept the majority findings of the conciliation board, even though this report was not in accordance with the guild's nominee to the board who felt that higher standards were warranted."

The conciliation board majority report recommended 19 per cent pay increase.

LONDON—American singer Jerry Lee Lewis and his 13-year-old bride packed up and headed for home today as British theatres cancelled the rock 'n' roll shouter's tour in the face of rising public resentment.

"It's all very unfortunate," said Oscar Davis, manager of the thrice-married Lewis, "and there could be a reaction in the States."

Lewis was greeted in London Monday night with cat-calls, boos and shouts of "go home, you cradle snatcher."

A sinister silence greeted his first number.

"Yawl seem awful quiet out there," drawled Jerry Lee. "I sho hope yawl ain't as half dead as yawl sound."

In the parlance of show business, Jerry Lee was asking for it.

"Go home, you crumb," someone shouted.

"Go home, baby snatcher," yelled someone else.

"We've had enough of you," chorused several angry young men.

Lewis put down his head, played away at his piano, sang above the din and finished his show.

Later, a crowd gathered outside his dressing room and bawled shouts through a key hole.

PLYMOUTH, England — "Smellyvision" made its debut here Sunday.

It's a television set containing sent-bottles that release their odors to tie in what's shown on the screen. An electrical impulse from the transmitter triggers a waft of ozone for a seascape, the odor of flowers when there's a garden scene.

The pioneer model has four smells so far.

Its inventor, William Rose.

200 GUARDS FOR NEGRO'S GRADUATION

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI) — More than 200 National Guardsmen and police will be on hand tonight when an 18-year-old Negro boy becomes the first of his race to receive a diploma from heretofore-segregated Central High School.

Ernest Green, one of nine Negroes admitted to the school last September, will be the lone Negro receiving a diploma in commencement exercises in the high school stadium.

The stadium served last fall as a bivouac for army troops ordered by President Eisenhower to enforce court-ordered integration in the face of segregationist-inspired riots.

A guardsman with a nightstick followed Green Monday as he went through rehearsal for tonight's program. When Green's name was called to receive his imaginary diploma, a few students laughed, but most of them applauded.

State of Emergency Proclaimed As Fight Flares Over Language

COLOMBO, Ceylon (Reuters) — A state of emergency was proclaimed throughout Ceylon today in the face of fresh clashes between the country's two main language groups.

The action came following the death of 18 persons in the last five days in riots between the Sinhalese and Tamil communities in the east and north-central provinces. Three persons were killed and several more injured when police opened fire on a violent mob in Polonnaruwa, north-central Ceylon.

The government also banned the federal party, which claims to represent the Tamil-speaking population, and the recently-formed Jaijika Vimukthi Peramuna organization of Sinhalese.

A dusk-to-dawn curfew was imposed in Colombo until further notice after a night of arson, looting and assault sparked by demands to give the Tamil language equal status with the official Sinhalese.

Security forces were reported to have opened fire on mobs in the turbulent eastern and north-central provinces and towns in the central, northwestern and western provinces.

Christian Democrats Fail To Win Majority in Italy

ROME (AP) — Italy's pro-Western Christian Democrats boosted their parliamentary strength in the weekend general election but once more fell short of a majority in the face of matching gains by the Leftist forces.

The Christian Democrats appeared to have emerged from Sunday's and Monday's voting strong enough to continue to govern Italy as they have since the war, but will have to proceed cautiously in a coalition for lack of a majority.

Seal-O-Matic Shingles hold tight even in HURRICANE WINDS!

The only self-sealing asphalt shingles proved on over 300,000 homes — cost as little as $14.50 a month

Johns-Manville patented Seal-O-Matic Asphalt Shingles have a continuous stripe of special adhesive on the underside of each shingle. The sun's heat automatically seals down the entire shingle edge and bonds it so firmly that it holds fast even in gale-winds. The continuous seal also prevents rain and snow from being driven up under the shingle and thereby causing leaks.

See the complete color range at your J-M dealer, or, write for free folder to Dept. BA-N5, Canadian Johns-Manville, Port Credit, Ontario.

Only J-M Seal-O-Matic Shingles offer all of these features

- The adhesive stripe across entire tab of every shingle provides maximum sealing.
- The adhesive stripe on the underside of every shingle provides natural downward sealing.
- The adhesive stripe at the lower edge of each shingle seals the critical first row of shingles.

Identity Cards Plan Proposed by Liberal

(From Times News Services)

OTTAWA—Compulsory national identity cards akin to the wartime national registration ones were suggested in the House Monday for all Canadians 16 years or older.

The recommendation, from Yvon Dupuis (L. St. Jean-Berville-Napierville), was among a mixed bag of proposals during the continuing Throne Speech debate.

Documents now used for identification by most Canadians—driving licences, credit cards and so on—could be used fraudulently, Mr. Dupuis said in his speech, delivered in French. He foresaw the only opposition to his plan coming from thieves, murderers, election impersonators and other knaves.

He suggested the cards bear a photo and information on residence, place and date of birth, marital status, nationality and religion.

In other speeches, a Saskatchewan member who emigrated from the Crimea 29 years ago let the House in on an imaginary conversation with a former prime minister about the feelings of a new, foreign-born member of parliament.

WHEAT PAYMENTS

Trade Minister Churchill announced a final Canadian Wheat Board payment averaging 6.28 cents a bushel for the 1956-57 barley pool. He said final payment for the wheat pool in the same period will be announced shortly.

Reynold Rapp (PC, Humboldt-Melfort), the immigrant who made good, said in his maiden speech he thought he detected a twinkle in the metal eyes of the monument of Liberal Prime Minister Sir Wilfrid Laurier as Mr. Rapp took his first walk up Parliament Hill.

"And I thought I could hear him say these words: 'What are you, a little immigrant of just 29 years residence, here in Ottawa for? Didn't I hear you say that all you wanted from life was to come to Canada and make a home for yourself and your family?'"

J. J. Martel (PC, Chapleau) plumped for a doubling of the price of gold, now pegged at $35 an ounce by the U.S. This would stimulate northland development.

LIVERPOOL OF WEST

W. A. McLennan (PC-New Westminster) said proper development could make New Westminster's harbor on the Fraser River the Liverpool of the west coast.

The proposed federal bill of rights, said G. Roy McWilliam (L-Northumberland-Miramichi) boiled down to a matter of little importance. Canadians had developed more rights and privileges without one than most Western nations had done with an enacted bill of rights.

J. E. Pascoe (PC-Moose Jaw-Lake Centre) mixed praise of the federal government's wheat-selling record with criticism of what he called the negative attitude of the Saskatchewan CCF government to federal farm policies.

Maurice Bourget (L-Lewis) said 17 shipbuilding yards employing 15,000 men should be stimulated to ward off an unpromising future.

Damages All Paid In Court Judgment On Lumber Firm

VANCOUVER (CP)—An acknowledgment of satisfaction for a judgment of $269,140 and costs awarded Whonnock Lumber Co. Ltd., of Vancouver by Mr. Justice Lord Jan. 31 was filed in Supreme Court Registry Monday.

It stated that Peter Bain, a Vancouver lumberman, has fully discharged the judgment together with interest and costs by transferring to the plaintiff company a timber berth and paying $187,500.

The case arose from the sale by Mr. Bain in 1950 of P. Bain Lumber Mills Ltd. for $600,000. The plaintiff company claimed that the defendant represented certain timber licences and berths as free and clear of encumbrances.

The trial judge found that there had been misrepresentations and awarded damages of $269,140.

COL. GEORGE FLINT
... "grievous loss."

Tribute Paid by PM To Slain UN Official

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker said today in the Commons the death of Col. George Flint of Montreal is a grievous loss to the United Nations and to the Canadian Army.

Col. Flint was mortally wounded by snipers while working as chairman of the UN Jordan-Israeli armistice commission.

Mr. Diefenbaker said Col. Flint was a brave and conscientious officer who had won a reputation for courage and impartiality in a thankless and difficult task.

His work had been recognized by the UN a short time ago when it had requested a year's extension of Palestine duty for Col. Flint.

The prime minister conveyed the sympathy of the Commons to Col. Flint's family.

Opposition leader Pearson said Col. Flint had died in the service of peace.

H. W. Herridge, speaking for the CCF, said he wanted to express the admiration of a man who had lost his life working for peace.

U.K. ENVOY'S HOME BOMBED IN LEBANON

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI)—Unidentified dynamiters bombed the home of the British ambassador here Monday night, and gunfire crackled in the streets of three outlying cities in this revolt-torn country.

There was no immediate report of casualties or major clashes.

The bomb set off in Ambassador Sir George Middleton's garden caused minor damage, but no one was hurt. Gunfighting was reported in Sidon, Rashiya and Tripoli.

NHA Loans Double '57 Total As Housing Still Climbing

OTTAWA (CP)—House building took another upward spurt in April with the number of mortgage loans, housing starts and completions all up from a year ago.

The number of National Housing Act loans approved almost doubled to 5,958 from 3,083 last year, boosting the January-April total to 21,023, trebled from the 6,442 of the similar 1957 four-month period, Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation reported today.

Construction costs rose slightly, but there still appeared to be a lot of customers. The number of houses completed and unoccupied for a month or more dropped to 2,139 from 2,982 in April 1957.

The Electrical Bill

THE LAYMAN IS LOST IN the maze of figures now being considered by the Public Utilities Commission. Does the B.C. Electric deserve a sharp increase in rates? Is it making too much money or not enough? If it is not making enough should the consumer pay more for electricity or can the company reduce its costs and increase its profits by economy?

These questions will have to be settled by the Public Utilities Commission but the layman can see, from a few simple figures, that the cost of electricity for residential purposes on the coast of British Columbia is comparatively high already.

There is no mystery about these figures. They can be obtained, as this newspaper has obtained them, from the reports of the electrical corporations, public and private, in various parts of the nation. The following table represents a fair cross-section of rates paid in different communities (excluding taxes) for small and fairly large amounts of power:

	Monthly bills (excluding tax) for residential customers using
	300 kwh	600 kwh	900 kwh
Victoria (present)	$8.45	$11.06	$14.25
Victoria (under new requested rate)	9.40	12.40	15.90
Vancouver (present)	8.30	10.55	13.50
Vancouver (under new req'd rate)	9.38	12.08	15.20
Brandon	6.45	9.45	12.45
Calgary	5.25	8.55	11.85
Cranbrook	8.40	12.90	17.40
Edmonton	4.30	7.30	10.30
Halifax	7.35	13.35	16.75
Kitchener	4.68	8.58	12.48
Nanaimo	6.60	11.40	14.40
Ottawa	2.73	4.56	6.06
Penticton	7.10	9.35	12.50
Portland	5.55	6.95	9.05
Regina	6.65	10.93	15.20
Saskatoon	7.37	11.64	15.92
Tacoma	3.70	6.02	7.82
Toronto	4.11	7.89	11.67
Winnipeg	4.40	7.40	10.40

While these figures show a considerable variation, it will be seen at once that the rates in Victoria and Vancouver, served by the B.C. Electric, are among the highest in the nation. They are exceeded by the rates in Halifax and equalled, approximately, by those in Saskatoon and Regina. In Toronto, served by the publicly-owned Ontario Hydro, the cost of electricity to the ordinary home is much below the cost here.

Example From the Pioneers

THIS COMMUNITY HAS PAID its formal tribute to the pioneers. Last Saturday they received certificates recognizing their residence here before 1886. The gesture according to this recognition was entirely fitting.

Victoria and British Columbia owe a great deal to these men and women. They came, seeking only to establish homes in a pleasant region. They remained to nurse the capital through its early years and to establish the foundations on which the city and district have been built.

In large measure their contributions were unconscious. They lived here and they sought to make the community better for their families.

Their success is measured in the developments that have taken place since they set down roots.

The spirit they have shown through long lives stands as an example to younger people with pioneering still to do. The ground has been cleared, the fields broken. But there are frontiers still to be pushed back, improvements still to be made.

These, too, call for the fibre of pioneers, though the horse-drawn plough is laid aside and the old dirt streets are hard-surfaced.

Tingling Like a Lamprey

THE ELECTRICAL SCIENTISTS are waging war against sea lampreys which have invaded the Great Lakes and, with the species' vicious cannibalism, are destroying commercial fish stocks.

The sea lamprey is a very unpleasant type. But if reports from the Lakes are correct, he's had his share of shocks in recent days. The electricians have wired certain barriers in fish streams and pass electric current through them when the sea lamprey makes contact.

The items do not say how other fish are warned away, but perhaps execution to them is a mild fate compared to an encounter with a sea lamprey.

We can't help feeling, though, that the authorities are failing to take advantage of a well-known destructive technique widely applied by communists.

Why, we want to know, haven't the biologists followed the plan of infiltration with the training and introduction of electric eels into the Lakes? These might search out the sea lampreys in a selective way and give the victims personalized treatment.

Pity the Young

CANADIANS take their pleasures sadly, even brutally, as anyone can see on a sunny weekend. In their moments of relaxation, I suppose, they reflect the sadness and brutality of the age. A speed-boat passenger, for example, or an otherwise sensible citizen on water skis, attempts as well as he can to imitate the speed, sensation, sound and risk of an inter-continental missile. He is the true child of the atomic era. Don't blame him too much. He rides the wave of the future, and the waves of his vehicle against your wharf or canoe are incidental. Besides, much larger waves, higher speeds and louder sounds are on their way.

Hutchison

AMONG the many slanders directed at this column, it is alleged that I nourish an old-fashioned prejudice against speed boats and water skiers. Nothing could be further from the truth. On the contrary, I love to see young people have a good time while they can, for in the nature of things the good times won't last long.

No, my sentiments as I watch the boys and girls on skis and raise my voice to a shout to make myself heard in casual conversation are sentiments of pure pity.

It seems to me, in my darker moments, that the young no longer know how to have a good time. The taut, frozen face of the girl on skis, the fixed, anxious, hysterical expression of the boy in the speed boat strike me as exceedingly sad. I pity the young when the chance of a good time is within such easy reach.

LAST weekend was sunny, warm and altogether perfect. I spent most of it in a hammock with a tall, frosty glass and Professor Toynbee's history book which proves, beyond doubt, in theory at least, that our Western civilization is now in a state of decline and death.

If the Professor had been present he would have seen convincing proof of his theory in a horizontal old man, who made no response to the Challenge of history, and many vertical young persons whose response was a frenzied shout before they plunged, like Western civilization, into the depths.

This analogy became so depressing after a while that I threw both Toynbee and the glass aside and undertook a slight Response to history's Challenge by building minor works of stone that may well outlast human history altogether.

WHEN another species succeeds man it will not find any speed boats or skis around our lake; it will find only a few clumsy walls of rock, and its historians will announce, with amazement, that certain forgotten creatures, with a crude mentality, once dwelt here.

My point, however, is not that one old man was doing something useful while the young were all doing something useless, for all of us were equally futile. My point is simply that the old man seemed to be enjoying himself while the young all wore a look of hysteria as if they expected the end of everything at any moment. (Well they might, if they had been reading the weekend papers, or Toynbee.)

At any rate, the old man enjoyed the healthful exercise of lifting rocks much too big for him, of mixing cement and shaping it crudely with his trowel until he dropped toward sundown with exhaustion and could tell himself, with the unflinching optimism of the aged, that he had done a good day's work.

A doctor would have pronounced him insane, suicidal and unlikely to last long. Fortunately the only doctor present was lying prostrate in the sun, acquiring a first-degree burn, sunstroke, headache and an insatiable thirst. He won't last long either.

But what would a psychiatrist have said about the young who could find nothing better to do than an attempt to break the sound barrier, together with the ear drums of everyone on the lake? He would certainly have pronounced them as insane as the old man and even more suicidal since they ran the risk of imminent collision and destruction; whereas the old man would kill himself slowly, systematically and quite pleasantly.

THE old man's Response to Toynbee's Challenge was to build an absurd monument of stone, interesting only to future anthropologists and another Toynbee, long hence. The young's Response was only a frantic scream, a giggle of desperation and a lonely splash. Then, as night fell, a black silence, an old man too stiff to move and the stars smiling wanly down upon a third-class planet and its ridiculous inhabitants.

Still, the stone wall remained, it would be there in the morning and for millions of mornings yet, but what had the young to look forward to? Nothing but the cares of mature life, the responsibilities of marriage and children who would not be satisfied with speed boats and skis, who would expect to spend their weekend careening through outer space. Therefore, pity the young.

MARKED for READING THE TREASURE

Of course you all know where my heart lies in India, and at the risk of repeating myself, I want to tell you again about the utterly blissful hours I spent with our boys and girls in the 12 USC-sponsored homes across this wide land. Let me tell you of the most adorable gift of all which I received. With their usually clumsy fingers, the little infinite pride and perseverance, the little skin paper, and had threaded them on fine nodding grass. It must have taken hours and hours to produce the delightful nosegay with which the littlest boy presented me at the end of their performance, trailing behind him long paper ribbons in red and blue. This is decidedly the most delicate treasure I have ever been given around the world, and I hope that you will be able to admire it when I show it to you on television next autumn.

FROM PARIS

By JOSEPH ALSOP

At the Critical Point

SHORT of a miracle in the French Chamber of Deputies, it is hard to see how Gen. de Gaulle's eventual return to power is going to be avoided. The French parliament is not usually a miraculous body. Hence the circumstances in which Gen. de Gaulle will take power probably constitute the key problem of the French future. If he is again elevated to the leadership of France by unconstitutional or anti-constitutional means, the consequences are likely to be fairly lurid. But one can at least hope for much better results if de Gaulle attains power by better means.

Alsop

The foregoing conclusions flow quite directly from the logic of the present situation here in France. The surface is deceptive. Paris is calm. Paris is in full springtime glory. Paris even has a government, headed by Pierre Pflimlin, which commands a large and seemingly solid majority in the Chamber.

But this smiling, tranquil surface is relatively meaningless when it is weighed against two central facts. The government of Pierre Pflimlin no longer has any real authority in Algeria. And there is no visible, practical way to re-establish the supremacy of Paris over Algiers, except by de Gaulle alone.

In the feverish days since the French Army in Algeria in effect proclaimed a second French government there, the key event here in Paris has been the resignation of the moderate and high-minded French Chief of Staff, Gen. Paul Ely.

Without Warning

Ostensibly, Gen. Ely resigned because the new Minister of Defence, Pierre de Chevigne, abruptly arrested a couple of members of the General Staff without giving Gen. Ely any warning.

In fact, however, this was just the straw that broke the camel's back, as was indicated when Gen. Ely was beseeched most humbly to resume his post. He simply answered that he did not agree with the Government on much larger issues than the arrest of his subordinates.

Three other senior officers, beginning with Admiral Henry Nomy; were then offered the post and gave the same answer as Gen. Ely. Gen. Henri Lorillot, who finally agreed to take over, is an intimate collaborator of Gen. Ely's. He accepted the office with the full approval of his former chief, and only because the French armed forces could not be left headless.

All this implies (as it was intended to imply) the virtually absolute solidarity of the French Army here in Europe behind the French Army in Algeria. What the Army wants is a serious attempt to solve the cruel Algerian problem once and for all, without undue further delay.

The apparently enthusiastic response of the Muslim population to the Committee of Public Safety in Algeria has convinced the Army that such a solution is now feasible.

But Gen. Raoul Salan has also revealed the Army's conviction that only one man can impose this Algerian solution. In his recent address in Algiers, Salan spoke volumes, both by his ecstatic praise of Gen. de Gaulle and by his significant silence concerning the Pflimlin government—the same government which was obsequiously voting full powers to Gen. Salan almost as the general delivered his address.

Army Support

In these circumstances, how else can the authority of Paris be restored in Algiers, except by an eventual resort to Gen. de Gaulle? No easily imaginable combination of French parliamentarians can accomplish this without, as a minimum, the support of the Army in Europe against the Army in Algeria.

That support will hardly be forthcoming, because the French Army in Europe shares the conviction of the French Army in Algeria that no imaginable combination of civilian politicians can impose an Algerian solution.

This conviction, furthermore, is almost certainly correct; for Gen. de Gaulle will be able to sponsor a solution that would cause cries of "treason" if it emanated from the Chamber of Deputies.

There is, therefore, only one peaceable way out that seems to have much chance of success. This is for the civilian politicians to offer power to Gen. de Gaulle for a limited term, and for two lawfully specified purposes—to seek a solution in Algeria and to carry through a constitutional reform.

Strike Threatened

The Left wing parties want nothing of the sort, the Communists are threatening a general strike. All the parliamentarians are looking for still another combination, which will somehow overcome the harsh reality of two quite separate governments in Paris and Algiers.

Maybe a miracle will happen, along this unlikely line. But it is much more likely that the situation will drag on to the point of open rupture between Algeria and Paris. Then there can be very bad trouble indeed in this unhappy country. (Copyright 1938, N.Y. Herald Tribune Inc.)

As Our Readers See It

Wrong Environment

The letter of Hannah Webb in your issue of recent date, seems to have been written without due consideration of certain fundamentals. An African lion escaping into our dense forests, and remaining there, would not be likely to survive for long. Such an animal would be in about the same unhappy situation as a polar bear "on the loose" in a tropical country.

The solar heat in this locality, would not of itself, be adequate for an African lion, while the chill, and dense shade, of our forests, would be even more depressing.

An African lion is not by nature a forest animal. He is hardly by nature, even a tree-climber. His natural habitat, is open park-like country, with adequate cover in the form of tall grass and shrubs, where he can relax by day, enjoy the heat of the sun, and see, without being seen. Poor African lion! He wouldn't be happy for long, "on his own," on Vancouver Island.

Good Fun

May I, through the medium of your paper, express the thanks and appreciation of an old resident (1911) to the Western Square Dance Association for the outstanding show they put on at the Memorial Arena, May 19.

It had everything—good fun, fine entertainment—all in an atmosphere of such relaxed friendliness that it was a joy to be there.

It meant a great deal of hard work for some, but it was one of the best shows Victoria has ever had.

'Flows Quietly Under the Famous Bridges, Carrying History in Its Stream'

LONDON is lovely this May. The over-sized red bread loaves that are the city's buses are laid up on strike. Their contribution to atmospheric pollution is missing. The air is cleaner.

In their places, the taxis flit about with the controlled, erratic movement of water boatmen on a pond. The unimpressible and cheerful drivers talk a language of their own to you and inspect the tin which is never too big. To the casual and brief visitor, London seems to be doing without its buses very well, though some housewives grumble pleasantly about the strike at Smith's fields which is interrupting the flow of meat. You don't notice any shortage if you drop into a Lyons Corner House for a steak.

Without the surface bus transport, you find crowds heavy in the Underground, with its characteristic smell of humanity and electrically burned air, and its clattering roar of trains incoming and outgoing.

The Guinness ads are just as bright as ever and the seaside resort posters show how brief a Bikini can be.

A small front page notice in an eight-page newspaper announces the departure of the Crazy Gang from the Victoria Palace at the end of the month.

My visit to the Crazy Gang was one of the few features not laid on by Trans-Canada Air Lines in the junket it provided for newspaper folk over the new Hudson Bay route to London and back.

I don't think anyone should make a special trip to London to see the show. But anyone who went over and saw it had that much more to make the visit enjoyable.

The Crazy Gang zanies have rocked the home folk and visitors alike for a quarter century—continuous hits in a music hall-revue tradition of rowdy, ribald, hilarious and brilliant performance.

An institution may be passing as they leave the Victoria.

"Most of the boys, the stars, are moving into their seventies now, of crowding near them. But did you ever see or hear anything like them?" a new London resident asks.

The Gang started to shake belly laughs from crowded houses back in the 'thirties. They are masters of a humor that is vulgar, often charged with innuendo, certainly unsuitable for a girls' school and, at the same time, is as rich as the earth from which it springs.

It's a little shocking to hear an admission of age from Bud Flanagan, Teddy Fox, Eddie Gray, Jimmy Gold and the rest. Your eyes mist a bit as Flanagan sings the sentimental ditties of a day gone by in a sort of farewell. And you catch the spirit of the gang as he winds up his touching song with a loud snarl and raucous "Aw t'ell with it."

But you haven't time to be mournful. The John Tiller Girls are back on the stage before you've squeezed a tear. You don't weep watching this dancing line display the best in choreography, callipygian perfection, beautiful costumes and the attractions that brought Italian movie stars into the headlines.

Still it's sad to think the show's breaking up. It was part of the London scene—as much a part as the sidewalk flower vendors who can spot a visitor a mile away and charge him a shilling for a six-penny rose.

Even the flower girls at Piccadilly are going, according to our rubber-neck guide, and the statue of Eros seems naked without the old souls at its base.

But the show that is London goes on. Crowds press against the railings at Buckingham Palace to see the Changing of the Guard, flock out along the sidewalk to see the Horse Guards ride by—young men, some merely in the army for a short time, clad in gleaming breastplates and mounted on superb police horses.

Visitors still feed the pigeons in Trafalgar Square by Nelson's monument. The prototypes of English businessmen, dark suited, dark hatted and carrying their furled umbrellas, stride up right along Oxford and Regent Streets. In brief wanderings I saw only one woman in a sack. It looked just like a sack.

The shopping centres, Liberty's, Selfridges, preserve an air of quiet courtesy. And the new business blocks have an elegance and character that cities on this continent might copy if they wish the appearance of distinction.

The pubs, well-known and locals, have a customary homey friendliness that Canadian pubs will never have until Canadians learn to use pubs as the English do.

The sidewalk artists—not very good artists—still sit on one leg to look like amputees.

You set your watch by the chime of Big Ben, and the Thames flows quietly between the Embankments, under famous bridges, carrying history in its stream.

(The importance of being Canadian is defined in this space tomorrow.)

Swiss Railways Pay

LONDON—British Railways, in the throes of the dilemma of how to provide their workers with higher wages and have the railroad system on something like a paying basis, have a simple answer over there in Switzerland but the government won't let them follow the Swiss example. Alone of the European railroads, those of Switzerland pay their way. In France, for instance, there's an annual deficit of over $150 million and the supposedly efficient Germans lost just on the same amount last year.

Reyburn

But in 1956 Switzerland showed a neat $5½ million profit from her publicly-owned railways and the figure for 1957 is expected to be even higher. How do they do it? By the simple expedient of making the passengers pay higher fares to ensure that the railway system won't show a loss.

In France and Germany the fares are just a shade higher than those in Britain. But in Switzerland they're higher by 50 per cent, and more, depending how you travel. On a 50-mile trip, for instance, Swiss first-class passengers pay $2.70 compared to the Britishers' $1.80 and in second-class the difference is $2 and $1.20.

Shaky Feeling?

Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic and Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation

Many persons want to know why, at times, they feel queer, jittery spells in which, perhaps, they feel shaky all over. Some feel as if they might go into a chill; others feel a quivering inside, or they feel trembly, or as if something awful were going to happen to them. Some break into a sweat; their heart may race and thump; they may feel numb all over, or they may feel pins and needles here and there; they break out in goose-flesh; they may feel like running to the toilet; they may feel weak in the knees, and they may feel as if they were going to faint, or black-out.

Alvarez

Such people keep asking, "What are these spells—what do they mean?" And often I say, "Your unsteady nerves are just playing tricks with many parts of your body." When they ask, "But why do I have the spells so often?" my first question is, "Are there any very nervous or eccentric or poorly-adjusted or epileptic people among your immediate forebearers—persons who could have bequeathed you an erratic set of nerves?" And practically always the person says, "Yes; mother was just like me"; or "my Aunt Julia, who once had a bad nervous breakdown, had these same spells," or "My daughter already is getting them."

Fortunately, most persons have these spells for years without coming to any bad end. Especially when these jitters have been coming for a few years, they cannot mean that any organ is seriously diseased. The "storms" are coming out of the brain. Sometimes a woman with these spells can help herself much by learning to live with herself and others much more peacefully. She can avoid stupid and tiring conflicts over many things—most of them unimportant. Many persons get help from reading my booklet, "How to Live With Your Nerves."

I constantly keep seeing people who look

If they could charge Swiss prices the headaches of British Railways would be over. They could make the system pay and could provide decent wages for the workers, especially for the train drivers, the men who have a really legitimate beef.

Porters lounging around the Flying Scotsman at Euston Station earn more, through basic wage and tips, than the man with the responsibility of driving the train up to Scotland!

But the government says no. British Railways can't have Swiss-type increases. If the rail charges went up substantially so, too, would the cost of living—and it would start a spiral of wage demands from workers in other industries.

The English should be thankful for the character-building qualities of their climate, according to homespun philosopher Laurence Easterbrook:

"It always keeps them guessing and that may be why they hate making theoretical plans in advance and have developed a native resourcefulness for dealing with emergencies. 'When unexpected rain spoils a picnic or fine weather from nowhere makes him curse the cloying mackintosh; in which he started the day, the Englishman should remember it is this unexpectedness that has had much to do with breeding a race nimble in mind and resourceful in meeting all the little problems in life.'"

What Keeps A Husband Faithful?

Our morals (and the law) say that a man should limit himself sexually to one woman for life. Yet, many husbands commit marital infidelity. Why? Kinsey thinks husbands are faithful only because of "concern for public opinion."

But June Reader's Digest says most psychologists think a new pattern of marriage is developing. Read why some husbands are unfaithful and how happy marriages can be created. Get your June Reader's Digest today.

Ferry Strike 'Dam' Urged by C of C

An emergency meeting of some 200 members of Victoria Chamber of Commerce Monday passed two resolutions aimed at ending the CPR ferry strike and preventing it from happening again.

The meeting adopted a resolution by Mayor Percy Scurrell requesting the Seafarers' International Union to accept arbitration of its wage dispute. A similar request was sent by city council earlier to the CPR and SIU. It was accepted conditionally by the CPR.

Mayor Scurrell said the request was aimed at reinstating the ferry service immediately with details of the disagreement to be left to a board of inquiry.

The businessmen also gave unanimous approval to a resolution urging the federal government to refer any labor dispute to arbitration where it is "considered that a strike or lockout would place in jeopardy the safety and general welfare of the public."

George Wheaton, who proposed the resolution, said the arbitration should be carried out by the judiciary. It would be binding on both sides.

Mr. Wheaton's resolution also asked the federal government to use the proposed legislation to end "the current tie-up of coastal shipping in B.C."

It was decided to ask all other Vancouver Island communities and the Canadian Chamber of Commerce to support the compulsory arbitration resolution.

At the request of president Hugh Stephen, Justin Harbord withdrew a resolution for the appointment of a fact-finding committee to investigate the claims and arguments of both parties in the CPR-SIU dispute.

Mr. Harbord felt the public should know "all the facts."

He was not satisfied, he said, with the claims of the CPR with regard to wages it was paying to seamen.

"I would also like to know if there is any foundation for certain reports that the CPR won't allow any other sea transportation company to compete with its service to the mainland."

Mr. Stephen said such a committee could be appointed at a later date.

"But for the moment we are trying to find ways and means of ending the strike which is crippling the tourist trade," he said. "The meeting was called for this purpose."

City Man Fined $250

For Impaired Driving

Walter Innes Hamilton, 429 Parry, was fined $250 in city police court Monday when he pleaded guilty to a charge of impaired driving.

Court remanded him to Friday for a probation report on the matter of licence suspension.

BCE Profits Sliding, Hearing Told

B.C. Electric Company profits on Vancouver Island services dropped from 6.51 to 4.83 per cent between 1955 and 1957, an official said Monday.

Vice-president and general solicitor for the firm A. Bruce Robertson quoted the figures before a B.C. Public Utilities Commission hearing in Victoria.

The company is seeking rate increases of about 11 per cent.

The following increases are asked:

Residential (home) electricity, 10.75 per cent; commercial, 8.26 per cent; industrial, 10.69 per cent; street lighting, 9.95 per cent.

BOOST IN REVENUE

The PUC was told that the company's revenue from Vancouver Island would be increased by $751,000 a year if these increases were approved.

Dr. H. L. Purdy, BCE vice-president, told the commission the 10.75 per cent increase on residential electricity would not affect household bills amounting to $3 a month or less.

He said there were more than 6,200 such small accounts among the 42,000 on Vancouver Island.

Mr. Robertson said the average revenue per kilowatt hour which B.C. Electric gets from the sale of electricity had declined about 10 per cent during the last six years.

The average per kilowatt hour from residential customers had fallen from 5.33 cents in 1934 to 2.54 cents in 1952 and 2.18 cents in 1957.

BIG SPENDING

Dr. John Davis, director of research and planning for the company, said while the cost of electricity per unit had dropped since 1952—the year of the last increase—purchasing power had shown a sizable increase.

He estimated that in the next four years a total of $28,400,000 would be needed for capital expenditure on Vancouver Island.

J. Louise McLean, vice-president and chief financial officer for the BCE, was asked by PUC chairman Dean Harry Angus if there was any prospect of halting the decline in the company's transportation services.

"The outlook is not at all hopeful," Mr. McLean said.

He added that last year the company's bus service in Victoria lost $257,000 before depreciation.

Eye Disease Virus Isolated By U.K. Team

LONDON (Reuters) — The virus of trachoma, an eye disease which affects roughly one-quarter of the world's population, has been isolated by a team of British research workers.

The announcement said the successful isolation of the virus was a first step towards finding a vaccine or other means of preventing trachoma blindness.

Trachoma is most concentrated in North Africa and the Middle East, where 90 per cent of all children in some areas are affected before the age of 2. The disease often is spread by flies.

Who's Going to Beat 'The Great Californian'?

It will be a battle of champions in the 100-mile Times centennial bicycle race on June 7.

The final link in a chain of Pacific Coast bike kings who will chase the first prize of a trip to the world amateur cycling championships at Rheims, France, in the Qualicum-Victoria grind was forged when Bob Tetzlaff dropped his entry in a mail-box one day ahead of Sunday night's deadline.

Tetzlaff may be the greatest all-around cyclist campaigning in the United States today. Named "The Great Californian" by eastern U.S. cycling writers, the 22-year-old Los Angeles pedaling machine has been collecting major victories for five years and has worn the California crown for the past two seasons.

Possessing that rare athletic asset—superb speed combined with exceptional endurance—Tetzlaff comes close to being the perfect bike rider. He can plan his tactics to win a long race like the Times grind either with a terrific finishing kick or by wearing down his rivals along the way with a gruelling pace.

But even Tetzlaff won't be a clear-cut favorite against the riders entered in the centennial century.

In his last major race, he needed all his ability to nose out former Toronto time-trial champion Jeff Robinson and 32-year-old Tom Sparks, California's cycling king before Tetzlaff took over the throne. Racing over an 85-mile course which included a climb over a 2,500-foot mountain, Tetzlaff edged Robinson by inches and all three were timed in three hours 40 minutes—an average speed of better than 23 mph.

Robinson and Sparks will join Tetzlaff on the trek to B.C. In fact, it will seem like a reversal of "California, here we come" for the June 1 handiebar classic. Four other talented Californians—Franz Von S. Berghammer, former holder of the Bavarian Invitational road-racing title; Jerry Palmer, Bob Best and Rik Bronson—are entered for the chase down Vancouver Island.

Tetzlaff and company will run head on into one of the finest collections of bike riders ever assembled on the west coast. Perhaps the greatest individual threat to the California contingent will come from Gary Lund of Seattle, Washington State champion and one of the nation's most versatile cyclists.

But there will also be Sam Knutson, Jr., best of Oregon's distance riders; Luigi Zanatta and Ian Mahon of Vancouver, who will represent western Canada in the Canadian British Empire Games trials; Vancouver's two-time Dominion sprint king, Jim Davies; a five-man Ontario squad headed by perennial provincial champion Fred Markes and Ian McMillan, and Irishman Mike Carr and clever Italian Mario Brathorn of Vancouver.

They're all aces and the question to be answered on June 7 is: Can any of them beat Bob Tetzlaff?

ROBERTS BEATEN

Carl Wasn't 'Corny'

By United Press

All that talk about Carl Erskine being washed up turns out to be just a lot of soap suds.

Don't try to tell that lather to the Philadelphia Phillies, who managed to get only two singles off him Monday night when he pitched Los Angeles Dodgers to a 2-1 victory.

Erskine, who held the Phils hitless until the sixth inning, had a little extra incentive because he knew his hospitalized old battery-mate, Roy Campanella, was watching him on television.

"It would sound too corny if I said I won it for Campy," said Erskine, who visited him Sunday night, "but I knew he was watching and I know the kick he gets whenever we win."

"Believe me, he's really struggling with us. When I was over to see him, he kept asking me over and over again, 'What's wrong with us?'"

NOTHING WRONG

There wasn't a thing wrong with the Dodgers Monday as they hung Robin Roberts' fifth defeat on him. They scored both runs in the fourth inning when Gil Hodges walked with two out, Gino Cimoli singled and little Don Zimmer scored them both with a line double off the left-field wall.

The victory was Erskine's third of the season and it looked all the more impressive coming off a 4-0 triumph he registered over the Cardinals in his last start on May 18.

Milwaukee Braves moved to within two games of first place with a 4-3 victory over Chicago Cubs in the only other National League game scheduled.

Eddie Mathews' 11th home run of the season in the eighth inning off Moe Drabowsky settled matters after the Cubs battled back to tie the score with a three-run rally in the sixth.

Frank Torre gave the Braves a three-run jump when he homered with two on in the fourth but the Cubs drove starter Lew Burdette to cover with their three-run burst in the sixth.

Murry Dickson, 42-year-old Kansas City knuckle-baller, won his own ball game with a 10th-inning homer that beat Baltimore, 5-4.

Dickson's homer was only the third one he hit in his 17-year major league career and it capped a relief stint of 6 2/3 innings during which he yielded only four hits to register his third victory.

Jim Busby put Baltimore in front with a fourth-inning grand-slam homer off Kansas starter Ralph Terry. The A's got three of those runs back in the bottom of the fourth off Connie Johnson on Bob Marlyn's two-run homer, an error and a pair of infield outs, then tied the score on Harry Chitt's homer in the fifth.

Stuart Smith Rugby Prexy

Stuart Smith was re-elected president of the Victoria Rugby Union Monday night at the organization's annual general meeting at the Union Club.

Named first vice-president was John Kerr with Dave McKenzie second vice-president and Peter Clarke secretary.

Treasurer is Walter Young and John Murphy is chairman of referees; Jim Hill, schools representative, and Alex MacDonald, publicity chairman.

Please, Men, No Clinching!

Breaking the clinch, and more, referee Bob Melville keeps an irate Archie Browning (5) and Jack Bionda at arm's length during Inter-City Lacrosse League flareup at Memorial Arena Monday night. Watching activity are Victoria goalie Gordie Johnston (left) and Jack Northup (13). Browning and Northup tallied a total of seven goals to spark Shamrocks' 9-6 victory over Bionda and his New Westminster mates.

Battered Brows Bring Medical Suspensions

NEW YORK (UPI)—Middleweights Otis Woodard and Eddie Andrews were under automatic 30-day suspensions today because of brow-cuts suffered Monday night when Woodard again beat Andrews in a TV fight at St. Nicholas Arena.

Woodard, of New York, stopped Andrews, of Lowell, Mass., at 2:41 of the fifth round, because of gashes on both brows. But Woodard, meanwhile, had his own left brow so ripped in the second round it will require plastic surgery.

Last April 14, Woodard won a split 10-round decision over Eddie.

Andrews, weighing 159½ pounds to Woodard's 160½, suffered a 10-stitch gash on his left brow Monday in the fourth round, and a four-stitch cut above the right eye in the fifth. Referee Arthur Mercante said the "brow" blood prevented Andrews' seeing properly.

Navy Marksmen Top Rifle Shoot

A team of navy shooters today are the proud possessors of the 50th Gordon Highlanders' Cup. Navy's marksmen scored an eight-point victory over 25th Militia Group at Heil's Range Sunday, while last year's winners, Canadian Scottish, finished third.

The five competing teams each fired 10 rounds from 200 yards, 500 yards and 600 yards.

Maj. A. M. T. Spittal was top individual shooter for the day with 144 points of a possible 150. Ron McCredy led shooters at 200 yards with a perfect 50, while CPO Bert Botten and PO Frank Ball both recorded 50s at 500 yards. Lieut. George Grivel and Eileen Leary both shot perfectly at 600 yards.

Northup (Four), Browning (Three) Spark Shamrocks

Shamrocks 9, New Westminster 6 By IAN SMITH

There was a time, only a few short seasons ago, when the appearance of Jake Proctor's New Westminster Salmonbellies at Memorial Arena created little or no extra stir among Victoria's Inter-City Lacrosse League followers.

But times change, a point which was brought up Monday as Shamrocks clipped Jake's highly-regarded gang 9-6 at Memorial Arena.

Attendance was officially given as 2,060—not an outstanding turnout—but if Monday's outing was an example of what is in store for fans who attend future Victoria New Westminster clashes, it could be that they'll be turning the customers away before the season ends.

Jake's boys aren't the "patsies" they used to be. It took the brilliant work of two "old pros" in the Irish lineup—goalie Gordie Johnston and defenceman Tommy Druce—to stop the league leaders from the Royal City.

BIONDA STYMIED

The pair took particular delight in holding high-scoring Jack Bionda in check. Druce was the "shadow" and Johnston the "stopper." Together, they provided the one big reason Shamrocks were able to mark up their first victory over Salmonbellies.

The Salmonbells forward tried everything from speed to fasttucks and still could drive only two bullets past Johnston. One of these was from a face-off, when Bionda got the jump, for the first time in the game, on the rugged Druce. His other goal came as Druce attempted to get back onto the floor to help kill off a penalty to Bert Bortea.

Of course, Shamrocks were taking special pride in keeping Bionda, a former teammate, off the score sheet, and the entire squad backed up Druce in his special checking chore.

Druce, according to coach Whitey Severson, earned himself the same job for the rest of the season. If Druce can hold Bionda to only two goals per game for the rest of the year Severson will be more than satisfied.

GEORDIE BRILLIANT

While Druce held Bionda beyond the free-throw line most of the time, Bionda still managed to throw a lot of rubber at goalie Johnston. But Johnston was spectacular, if somewhat overworked.

While the Victoria netminder had to handle 34 shots, Salmonbells goalie Harry Preston stopped only 19. Bionda practically made up the difference by himself. He fired 11 of those 34 shots.

ONE-TWO PUNCH

As could be expected, however, Johnston and Druce did not defeat the Salmonbellies alone. A couple of other veterans, Jack Northup and Archie Browning, helped at the opposite end.

Northup bounced four balls past Preston in the first half. Browning tallied three times, also in the first half.

With the two Shamrocks dominating all scoring action, Victoria built up a 5-2 first-quarter lead and then lengthened it to 8-3 before Bionda beat Johnston for the first time at 10:27 of the second period.

Left over from Sunday's immensely successful Centennial Foursome Open was this plea from Colwood member Mike Morgan:

"Be sure and tell the owner of the 1941 blue Chev. sedan who was driving towards Sooke that it wasn't my ball that hit his car."

That slice on the 14th, which borders Sooke Road, was his partner's effort, Mike claims.

Uplands Captain Claude Heggie sadly informs us that the captain's side "look an awful pasting" from Bob Williams' team in their annual president vs. captain matches Saturday. Officially, the result was 18-10.

Still at Uplands, Ken Lawson scored a hole-in-one last week, using a four wood on the ninth to turn the trick. He was playing in a foursome with Bob Hunt, Eric Hiberson and Roy Stranix.

If you have a spare dollar and time for an 18-hole round between June 5 and 8, don't forget National Golf Weekend. Proceeds for the annual affair are funnelled back to various provincial associations to further the junior development program.

PGA champion Stan Leonard will match his gross score against the net of all Canadian males, while Canadian women's champion Betty Stanhope of Edmonton will file a gross score for the ladies to shoot at.

They'll play in a foursome with Victoria's Bill Wakeham and Montreal's Judy Darling, the Dominion's junior rulers, in a match at Edmonton's beautiful Mayfair course.

Next big event for city swingers is the 72-hole City Amateur chase at Colwood. First 36-hole round will be played Sunday with Laurie Kerr on hand to defend his laurels.

The 72-hole trial will also determine another city representative in the big pro-am event being staged in connection with the big Centennial Open tournament at Vancouver's Point Grey.

The berth will go to the lowest net scorer who has a handicap of 14 or less.

Jim Carson, who turned in a rather fancy display with his approach shots, credits Harry Yeardon's putting for their victory in Sunday's four-some event.

"Harry dropped a 25-footer on the eighth and also sunk five others from between eight and 10 feet."

The pair transferred allegiance to Uplands from Colwood about a year and a half ago.

The affair was such a success that the Victoria and district golf committee is already thinking of placing an entry limit on next year's tournament.

SHORT CHIPS: Entries are starting to roll in for the Washington State Amateur, to be held at Bellingham, June 23-27... the field is limited to the first 160 putting in their names... city ladies start their annual championship tournament next Monday at Uplands... and on Thursday ladies will play the Dowell Cup team matches at Colwood... the Mid-Island and Zone One championship, a 36-hole grind, will be played at Nanaimo June 14 and 15... A strong Victoria district delegation will participate... and seniors are reminded that their B.C. title tourney will be played at Point Grey June 4-6.

Longden Gets Mount in Plate

TORONTO (CP)—Jockey Johnny Longden, who has the greatest winning record in the history of horse racing, will fly here from England to ride Stole the Ring in the $25,000-added Queen's Plate June 7.

William F. Morrissey, of Toronto, breeder of Stole the Ring, which races under Miss Blanche Armstrong's colors, said he has signed Longden for the 1 1/4-mile classic.

However, the 48-year-old veteran, who has ridden 5,100 winners, will not be aboard Stole the Ring for the plate trials next Monday. He is scheduled to ride in the Epsom Derby for Max Bell's Alberta Ranch June 4.

Punjab Bantams Keep Up Torrid Lacrosse Pace

Punjab United maintained its undefeated record in the bantam division of Victoria's Minor Lacrosse Association Monday with a 5-4 win over Combines at Memorial Arena.

Punjab have now won five and tied one.

In a midjet division game at Stevenson Park, Saanich thumped Victoria City, 14-4, behind the four-goal output of Dale Sproule.

Brent Atkin scored three for Saanich, while Tom Churchill and Bill Walton both netted two. Frank Alexander, Lawrence Smith and Herb Alexander all fired one.

For Vics, George Grover scored three and Cliff Thorburn one.

Bjorn Stavrum and Jag Minder Singh scored twice for Punjab, while Nava Dhillon added a single.

Glen Vickers led Combines with two goals, while Allister McNair and John Allan notched one apiece.

OLD-TIMERS GETTING READY

DD Parade Didn't Help

Dickinson & Dunn threw in everybody but the bat boy at Fletcher's Monday night but still failed to stop them from taking the senior B men's softball league offering at Heywood Avenue Park, 9-5.

Dickinson & Dunn starter Ray Ramsay lasted only part of the first inning before stepping out in favor of Joe Lesperance. In the fourth inning, Lesperance gave way to Rod Turner, who, in turn, was replaced by Bud Legare in the eighth.

Larry Jay went the route for the winners although tagged for 11 safeties. He was pulled out of trouble on three occasions with the help of double plays.

BIG BLAST

Ray Vater's first-inning grand-slam homer helped rout Ramsay.

In Sunday action, Brodies Bakery defeated Tudor House 8-5 while in Sunday Senior "A" action at Duncan, Mayo Lumbermen swept a pair from Half Way House, 7-3 and 5-4.

Thursday will be a special night at Central Park, when softball "Oldtimers" will take on Arrow Furniture in a benefit game for Ron Benn.

The Arrow player was injured in the first game of the season and is still confined to St. Joseph's Hospital.

FAMILIAR FACES

Arrows could well run into trouble when they take the field with many of the more illustrious former "big" names of local softball in the 622-winners lineup.

Included among them will be Toad Garnet, Gar Taylor, Rom Knott, Vic Dale, Joe Bryant, Alf Wiebe, Rosy McLeilan and Ken Gunter.

Others on the team are Frank Kilshaw, Hal Yardley, John Fumston, Stan Tenning, Norm Martin, Hap Milligan, Jim Morrison, Gus Hilton, Ray Byers, Bill Reynolds, Henry Harris, Al Arnold, Phil Benn and Chick Newman.

Elisian, Oakland, Calif., was arrested May 16 for driving 44 miles an hour in a 30-mile zone. He had just become the first man in history to turn in one lap at the "500" track in better than 148 miles per hour.

Elisian pleaded innocent at the time. Judge John Christ found him guilty today, but delayed sentencing until June 2.

Hungarians' Gift Goal Stops Nanaimo Squad

VANCOUVER (CP)—Nanaimo played most of the soccer Monday night at Calister Park but still dropped a 2-1 Pacific Coast League contest to rough-checking Hungaria.

Hungaria's win came on a gift goal by substitute forward Steve Takacs after 29 minutes of the second half. Nanaimo centre-forward Bill Ackincklose had tied the score 1-1 12 minutes earlier.

Telephone 'Chain' Saves Money

VANCOUVER (CP) — The "long chain of companies" through which B.C. Telephone Company obtains many of its supplies and services does not increase costs, but rather holds them down, Cyrus H. McLean, president, told the Board of Transport Commissioners Monday afternoon.

Mr. McLean made the statement when cross-examined by C. W. Brazier, appearing as counsel for the province of B.C., the Union of B.C. Municipalities and a number of individual communities.

Hearings on B.C. Telephone's petition for an increase in rates opened before chief commissioner C. D. Shepard and commissioner H. B. Chase.

EXPERTS ASSISTING

Experts assisting the commissioners are A. S. Kirk, chief of the transport board's traffic branch, and William Hogben, financial adviser to the board.

The company is seeking rate increases averaging 15 per cent. E. R. Boyce, general rates supervisor, said long-distance rate increases proposed, were only about 5.3 per cent, as these rates were especially susceptible to diminishing returns.

Person-to-person rates would be raised more than station to station, in order to encourage the latter.

Mr. McLean, first witness at the hearing, said B.C.'s expanding economy makes it essential that regulated utilities "be kept in a healthy condition from the earning standpoint."

Company counsel Senator J. W. deB. Farris said any increase granted as a result of the application "will afford only temporary relief."

Senator Farris outlined the problem which he said faced the company as a result of the cabinet decision to disallow money set aside for future tax payments in considering rate increase applications of Bell Telephone Company and Canadian Pacific Railway.

Sister Recovering From Burns In Indian Hospital Rescue Bid

(From CP Dispatches)

ALEXIS CREEK — Sister Mary of the Cross was expected to give evidence today at the inquest into the deaths of 12 children who died in a hospital fire last Thursday at the Anahim Indian Reserve near Alexis Creek.

A spokesman for the provincial fire marshal's office said Sister Mary, who suffered severe face and hand burns in a heroic rescue effort, should be sufficiently recovered to attend the inquest, which was formally opened Friday and adjourned until today.

WATER SHORTAGE

SURREY — A drastic water shortage through lack of pressure is threatening this fast-growing Fraser Valley community.

Mothers lined their children up at a garage for baths while others melted ice cubes for drinking water as the shortage reached a peak Sunday. Lack of adequate pressure kept the taps dry.

Angry residents held a protest meeting Sunday afternoon to ask municipal council why new subdivisions were added to the system when existing homes cannot get enough water and why pumps were not being used when there was an adequate water supply.

HOUSING FOR COMMISSIONAIRES

VANCOUVER — A proposed $200,000 low-rent housing development for the B.C. Corps of Commissionaires has been approved by city council and now goes to the federal and provincial governments for final approval. The governments are to share the cost with the commissionaires.

WOMAN KILLED

CLINTON — Mrs. Richard Myro Nyklifourk, 23, of Bralorne, was killed Monday when the car in which she was travelling left the Cariboo Highway 11 miles north of here.

Six other occupants of the car were injured.

Police said the automobile left the highway on a straight stretch of Fifty-Nine-Mile Hill. The injured, three adults and three children, were taken to Ashcroft Hospital.

YOUTHS CHARGED

VANCOUVER — Two youths were charged in Vancouver Police Court, Monday, in the Stanley Park rape of an 18-year-old girl.

Police are still looking for a third assailant in the alleged criminal assault.

Bail was set at $3,500 each for both William Seifert, 21, of Vancouver, and Nicholas Kofinoff, 23, of New Westminster.

TEACHERS QUIT

NORTH SURREY — Teachers in Surrey are resigning at the rate of four or five a day, the St. Helen's Park Ratepayers' Association was told Monday.

Speaking at the annual meeting of the organization, zone representative Jim Kavanaugh said that the steady rate of resignations was due to failure of the teachers and school board to reach an agreement over salaries.

He estimated that Surrey would need 500 teachers or more this fall. The present teaching staff is 400.

WELDERS FIRED

VANCOUVER — A welder who returned here Monday from Fort St. John says work on an 80-mile stretch of gas pipeline near the northern B.C. community has stopped because of the firing of six Canadian welders. Three American welders were retained.

Gordon Jensen said the sacked welders sent a telegram to Prime Minister Diefenbaker protesting "this disgraceful discrimination against Canadians." He said the telegram was also sent to various M.P.s, newspapers and radio stations.

S. R. Fleming of Vancouver, project manager for Ford, Bacon & Davis Canada Ltd., the line inspectors, denied work had stopped.

He said the men were fired because their work failed to reach the standard required by union contract.

AIDE MAPS WAY FOR MARGARET

An aide to Princess Margaret has completed a 2½-day tour of B.C., covering the route she is expected to follow during her July 12 to 26 visit.

Deputy Provincial Secretary R. A. Pennington said Monday Hon. Francis Leigh, secretary to the Princess, has now returned to London. It is expected the itinerary for the royal tour will be announced next week after his report.

'Once Over Lightly' Schooling Rapped

LILLOOET (CP) — A British Columbia school principal Monday told the B.C. royal commission on education that social studies courses in Grades 7 and 8 are a waste of time.

T. A. Wickstrom, principal of Bralorne consolidated school, told the commission that the courses are too complex and that the pupils forget them quickly.

Citing the Grade 8 social studies textbook, "Canada in the World Today," he complained that the course covered British, American, Canadian and B.C. history "once over lightly."

He said social studies in Grades 7 and 8 should be taught in story form—ancient history being taught in Grade 7 by interesting stories of the lives of Socrates, Alexander the Great and Julius Caesar.

He said Grade 8 students should be taught B.C. history since they live in the province and are interested in its history. He considered their appreciation of international problems to be slight.

Mr. Wickstrom said family allowance payments can be stopped if a student is continually late for school.

He said federal government authorities will suspend payment of family allowance to parents of late children on the basis of a report from the school principal.

At his school, making the late students report at 8.30 a.m. instead of 8.50 a.m. has been successful in curing habitual lateness.

CAR THIEF SENTENCED

PORT ALBERNI — Robert Gus, 20, who police said tried to get away by swimming fully clothed across the So-mass River, was sentenced to six months in Oakalla prison when he pleaded guilty in police court Monday to a charge of car theft.

Chesley Williams, who pleaded guilty to theft of the same car, also was sent to Oakalla for six months.

Unrest Washes Out Mission to Korea By Dr. F. Fairey

A special mission to Korea which was to have been made by Dr. Frank T. Fairey, former Liberal MP for Victoria, has been postponed because of "unsettled conditions."

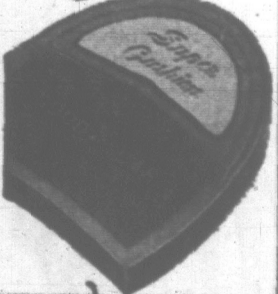

Dr. Fairey was asked to go to Korea under auspices of the International Labor Office in connection with an expanded technical assistance program undertaken in Korea by a number of United Nations and other government agencies.

He was to have advised the Korean government on vocational training and manpower problems.

Dr. Fairey has now been advised by the International Labor Office that the mission is inadvisable at the present time due to unsettled conditions in Korea.

He has had previous experience on similar mission in the Far East.

PORT ALBERNI BOY DIES AFTER GAS EXPLOSION

VANCOUVER — Ten-year-old Jimmy Delzer, injured last Thursday when an oil tank exploded in the yard of his home at Port Alberni, died Monday in Vancouver General Hospital.

He was flown here after failing to respond to blood transfusions administered in the West Coast General Hospital. He suffered head injuries.

Police said the heat of the sun caused the oil tank to explode. The boy was playing nearby.

Unconscious Swimmer Saved From Drowning

NANAIMO — Twenty-eight-year-old Arvet Smith was saved from drowning Sunday when Bill Sampson pulled him unconscious from the bottom of Westwood Lake.

Smith had got into difficulties while swimming. Sampson, 19, and three companions applied artificial respiration until an inhalator arrived. Smith was taken to hospital and released Monday. Both Smith and Sampson are from Nanaimo.

Peace Moves, Threats Made by Russian Bloc

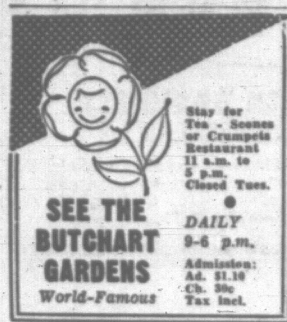

MOSCOW (AP) — Announcing that Russia will pull its troops out of Romania and reduce forces in Hungary, the Soviet bloc called on the NATO powers again today to join in a 25-year non-aggression pact.

At the same time, Premier

Khrushchev threatened to set up rocket bases in East Germany, Poland and Czechoslovakia if the United States and its allies arm West Germany with nuclear weapons.

These disclosures appeared in a communique summing up the meeting of Russia and her East European allies in Moscow Saturday. The group met after a four-day economic conference of the members of the Warsaw Pact, the Communist counter to the North Atlantic alliance.

Soviet troops have been in Romania since they liberated the Balkan neighbor on the Black Sea from the Germans late in the Second World War. Their withdrawal would leave Russian troops stationed in Poland and East Germany as well as in Hungary.

Swedes Vote On Welfare Benefits

STOCKHOLM (AP)—Sweden votes this Sunday on whether to end more than 25 years of almost uninterrupted Socialist rule in this welfare state.

The elections also will define the scope of the welfare benefits Sweden's 7,350,000 people receive whether they like it or not.

The welfare issue toppled Prime Minister Tage Erlander's cabinet April 25 under a combined opposition vote of 117 to 111. King Gustaf VI was asked to dissolve parliament on a political issue for the first time in 40 years.

The government was defeated on a bill to extend old age pensions by having employers pay all the extra costs. But the major campaign issue was broadened to the general problem of state interference versus the individual's right to handle his own business—including planning for his old age.

ICE-AGE LATER

Warm Arctic Predicted In Century

NEW YORK (BUP) — Two Columbia University scientists have evolved a new glacial theory that, if true, means northern Canada and Russia will become relatively warm countries perhaps in a century.

Then, according to Dr. Maurice Ewing and Dr. William L. Donn, the cycle will change and a new ice-age will start incubating, but it probably would be 10,000 years before glaciers again marched south and covered Canada and part of the northern United States as well as much of Russia.

Meanwhile, man might learn how to moderate the effect of the new ice age—which would be the fifth glacial era within 1,000,000 years if geological calculations are correct.

Since 10,000 years is longer than all man's historical era there is no need to worry about the new ice age now, professors Ewing and Donn say. But there is need to think about the possibilities of an astonishing warming up of the Arctic, which may begin to make its results felt in 50 years. However, they refuse to predict its actual rate or say how much longer the warm cycle will continue, it probably has been going on now for 11,000 years—since the end of the last glacial age.

The cycle theory of the two scientists is that Greenland and other big islands between Canada and Norway, and shallow passageways that block the flow of warm waters from the south into the Arctic Sea have caused the four glacial ages.

50 Escape as Bus Hit by Lightning

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—A bolt of lightning struck a crowded transit bus at a busy Portland intersection Monday night, setting it afire.

All the 50 passengers—many with singed eyebrows and hair—escaped without serious injury. Thirteen were held in hospital overnight for treatment of smoke inhalation and non-critical burns.

Witnesses said the lightning, which struck at the height of a sudden storm, skipped along the trolley wire before it shot into the electric trolley bus.

Inside the bus the bolt became a huge ball of fire which flashed over the passengers' heads and set the rear portion of the vehicle ablaze.

"The bus is on fire, open the doors," a passenger shouted. Driver Walter Nabors pressed the electric door switch, which still was operating, and the passengers—some of them hysterical—poured out into the street. A number of them lost shoes, purses, umbrellas and other possessions in the scramble to get out.

Science Now Shrinks Piles Without Pain Or Discomfort

Finds Healing Substance That Relieves Pain And Itching As It Shrinks Hemorrhoids

Toronto, Ont. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain and itching. Thousands have been relieved with this inexpensive substance right in the privacy of their own homes without any discomfort or inconvenience.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was promptly relieved. And while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of even 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne) — the discovery of a famous scientific institute. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug stores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

... HERE AND THERE ... With NORMAN CRIBBENS

A man who refuses to travel anywhere by plane will arrive in Victoria later this week—Black Ball Lines permitting.

He is R. A. Mackie, who, as general manager of Canadian Pacific Hotels, is now on a cross-Canada tour from his office in Montreal.

Believe it or not, our new and very expensive B.C. cider was sold out at the Johnson Street liquor store Monday night. A fresh supply is expected today.

The most cheerful man I know is Leonard Metcalfe, a victim of multiple sclerosis, who sells papers, magazines and flags at the corner of Government and Bellevue every day from 3 to 7 p.m.

Winter and summer, six days a week, Mr. Metcalfe sits tranquilly in his auto car, facing the harbor and smiles.

Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane does not care for some of those collegiate phrases that are being bandied about nowadays.

He rebuked a young motorist in Supreme Court who said, "I went for the brakes," when faced with a collision. "What do you mean by that?" asked His Lordship. "Either you applied the brakes or you did not. When you say 'I went for the brakes' it implies that you did not even know where they were."

"Mr. Mackie never travels by plane and I do not think the current CPR strike will make any difference," says Cyril Chapman, manager of the Empress.

"We expect he will take the Black Ball ferry to Nanaimo if it is still running."

He has done this, through sun, wind and rain, since 1932 and many folk set their watches when he drives up at 3 p.m. with the home edition of The Times.

One of his best customers is Premier Bennett, who likes to chat with Mr. Metcalfe when buying his favorite newspaper.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

A dazzling display of custom cars and hot rods will form the Quarter-Milers' Centennial Autorama Friday and Saturday at the Curling Club.

The show will kick off an Island-wide drive to raise funds for a properly constructed drag strip.

Some 12 hot rod clubs on the Island will participate in the drive.

Canadians are said to have two left feet on the dance floor but a Victoria naturopath will try and disprove this when he leaves Wednesday for Toronto and the Canadian amateur ballroom dancing championships.

The husband and wife team of Dr. and Mrs. Ronald Holm, 1554 Despard, are the first western dancers to compete in the annual affair sponsored by the Canadian Dance Teachers' Association and inaugurated in 1955.

James W. Armstrong, 844 Dunsmuir, changed his plea to guilty and was fined $250 in Esquimalt police court Monday for impaired driving.

He was remanded a week for a probation report on the matter of driver's licence suspension.

General offices in the new Oak Bay municipal building will be ready within two weeks, Reeve Fred Norris told council Monday.

Official opening will be held some time in July.

The monthly meeting of the Institute of Power Engineers, Victoria Branch, will be held in the Flame Room at the B.C. Electric Building, 820 Pandora, tonight at 7.30.

Guest speaker for the educational portion of the program will be Russ Davis of the Electronics Corporation of America, who will discuss flame failure control. The subject should prove interesting to those using oil as fuel.

Free public transportation will be run to Royal Oak Cemetery Sunday starting at 1.30 p.m.

Tickets may be obtained from McCall-Davey Drugs, 1469 Douglas St.

Stamps and cash totalling $20 were stolen in a weekend burglary at provincial Motor Vehicles Branch, deputy superintendent Ray Hadfield told city police Monday.

It was earlier believed nothing was stolen from the premises, which were thoroughly ransacked after entry was gained by a south side fire escape.

Oak Bay service stations will continue to close at 6 p.m.

Council Monday went along with the request of service station operators who had petitioned council that hours remain the same, though later closing is allowed under new provincial regulations.

TIMES ASK The

Q. Can you tell me the date of birth of Florence Nightingale?—E.F.T.

A. Florence Nightingale, "The Lady With the Lamp," was born in Florence, Italy (thus her first name), May 5, 1820. She died in London, England, Aug. 13, 1910. As you doubtless know, she was the heroine of modern nursing.

Q. Can you please tell me the dates when poets Elizabeth Barrett Browning and Robert Browning were born, married and died?—E. L. M.

A. Robert Browning was born in London, May 7, 1812, and died in Venice, Dec. 12, 1889. His wife, Elizabeth, was born in Durham, England, March 6, 1806, and died in Florence in 1861. They were married in 1816.

The ogre of television seems to be fighting a losing battle in Greater Victoria if figures released by the Victoria Public Library recently are any indication.

Lower Islanders borrowed 14 1/2 per cent more books from the library in 1957 than in 1956 and 25 per cent more than in 1955.

The increase was apparent in all municipalities being greater in Saanich and less in Victoria.

Due to the fire hazard, the road on Little Saanich Mountain leading to the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory will be closed to the public after 5 p.m. starting today.

Exception is during the public viewing period from 9 to 11 p.m. Saturday.

Saturday, Sunday and holidays the road will be closed all day, with the one exception until further notice.

Department of labor conciliation officer W. T. McLaughlin of Victoria was appointed Monday to act in a dispute between 150 electrical workers and 23 contractors in Victoria, Nanaimo, Port Alberni and Campbell River.

The men are members of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Local No. 230. Changes in both wages and working conditions are involved.

A meeting of the View Royal Garden Club will be held Wednesday 8 p.m. in the View Royal Community Hall.

Civic licensing and regulation of boarding homes used as nursing homes for the aged may be recommended at a Victoria-Esquamalt union board of health meeting tonight.

The board scheduled an "open" meeting at 8 p.m. in the city health centre to consider an 18-month study of the situation by a sub-committee. Councilors from outside municipalities were invited to attend.

GREAT BALLS OF FIRE, WHAT CAME WITH THE DAWN?

Early Birds Startled by Mystery Flash Over City

A dazzling, fiery object hurtling through the sky over Victoria startled residents shortly before dawn today.

Most detailed report on the sighting came from Wilfred Pyle, 89 Sims, a driver for Alert Service.

On his regular mail run from Nanaimo, he saw the blazing object just after crossing the Malahat.

"I was in the Goldstream area," he said. "I saw a cone-shaped, brilliant mass, about three feet in diameter. It was dazzling bright at the front part, and appeared to have a glow around it.

"I judged it to be about 200 feet high, just over the tops of the trees, about 100 yards in front of me. It scared the daylight out of me.

"It seemed to be slanting toward the ground. At the angle it was going, it looked as if it would hit the ground in about 500 yards. It was travelling at high speed, I've never seen or heard of anything like it."

Mr. Pyle reported the time as 4.10 a.m.

A naval officer on duty at HMC Dockyard also reported a fiery object, at about 4.15 a.m.

The officer, on guard duty, was walking from Jetty A the destroyer jetty, toward the drydock — which would put his back to the Goldstream area where Mr. Pyle made his sighting.

The officer said the object was travelling in the same direction he was walking.

"I caught sight of its first out of the corner of my eye," he said, "and thought at first it was a Bofors gun firing tracer shells. Then I realized it was up in the sky.

"It was not like any falling star I've seen. It was very bright, and seemed to have a blue flame around it. In about three seconds, it disappeared from sight, as though it had gone into outer space."

Night operators at both local radio stations received half a dozen anonymous reports of a mysterious, bright object flashing through the sky.

Only possible "astronomical explanation," according to Dr. R. M. Petrie, director of the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory, is that the object was an exceptionally bright meteorite.

Medical Scheme Possible, But 'Not Socialism'

Socreds Shun Word But May Pay Costs

B.C. Health Minister Eric Martin today emphatically denied his government would introduce "socialized medicine" in B.C.

But he did not deny B.C. Hospital Insurance may be extended to meet medical costs.

In a written statement and a subsequent interview today, the minister strove to make it plain such a program should not be construed as socialized medicine.

It is known there have been private objections registered by B.C. medical practitioners following recent speculation that a state medicine plan would be a Social Credit plank in the next election platform.

MARTIN'S STATEMENT

This is the statement the minister issued:

"I would like to make a public statement of importance. The policy of the provincial government does not include socialized medicine; we have never been in favor of it, and never will be in favor of it.

"I want it clearly understood that this government is unalterably opposed to socializing this important aspect of our provincial health."

Today Mr. Martin added: "A patient must be free to choose his own doctor, and the doctor must be able to follow a patient into hospital."

He referred to a brief presented by Premier W. A. C. Bennett at a federal-provincial conference at Ottawa in November, 1957. It stated a national health program should include "medical care service."

ONLY PAY CLAIMS

"There is no doubt people of this province want protection against medical costs. It will come in due time," the minister said.

But, "... socialism is a centralization of power." He said it would be socialism if "... we took over the hospitals and operated them. We only pay claims on behalf of patients.

"Payment of medical costs through the government would not mean socialized medicine."

J. C. GARNETT
... a Royal Engineer

RES TO RAISE IT

Royal Totem Military Operation

The Royal Engineers are at it again.

After helping to establish the province 100 years ago, they will erect B.C.'s monument to the centenary in England.

City Engineer J. C. Garnett today sent them instructions on how to erect the 100-foot Royal Totem, en route to England as the province's centennial gift to Queen Elizabeth.

The whole operation will be a Royal Engineers' affair because Mr. Garnett also is a member of the British military arm.

He still holds the rank of honorary lieutenant-colonel after 12 years' service in the Royal Engineers, including six on active duty during the Second World War.

The instructions are based on methods devised by Mr. Garnett to raise the 137-foot World's Tallest Totem in Beacon Hill Park in 1956.

Mr. Garnett sent the suggestions to Lt.-Gen. Christopher Walkley, chief engineer of the British Army, with whom he was associated for 18 months in the British war office during the war.

A request to the Victoria Times for details on putting up the World's Tallest Totem was passed on to Mr. Garnett. It came from G. S. Gibson, deputy agent-general for B.C. in the U.K., who reported "this is a new adventure for the Royal Engineers."

Two Admit Guilt As Car Crashed

Two men pleaded guilty in city police court to taking a car without the owner's consent early today after a near-wreck at Fountain Circle.

Terrance S. McCarthy, 31, of Nanaimo, and James H. Campbell, 20, of Work Point Baracks, were charged jointly.

Campbell also pleaded guilty to driving without a licence and careless driving.

All charges were remanded for sentence to Thursday.

Court was told the car was taken from Gladwell Motors Ltd., used car lot at 630 Pandora, driven north on Government to Hillside and smashed into a concrete curb and lamp standard.

Police said the car was going 35-40 miles an hour and made a skid mark more than 80 feet long.

Damage to the car was estimated at $700, to the lamp standard, $20.

Campbell and McCarthy were picked up at Bay and Bridge, to where they drove the damaged car.

Full Forest Closure Considered Imminent

An estimated 2,400 Vancouver Island loggers were driven from their jobs today by a growing threat of forest fires.

A general closure of forests in most parts of B.C. appeared almost certain as weather forecasters saw no indication of any general rains.

There will be intense drying throughout the southwestern section of the province Wednesday, they reported.

Three major logging operations on Vancouver Island have voluntarily shut down partially or completely.

All campfire and burning permits in Vancouver fire district, which includes Vancouver Island, were cancelled today by B.C. Forestry Service.

The B.C. Forestry department has ordered only a partial closure in the Vancouver fire district and is permitting industrial operations between midnight and 1 p.m.

"But a full closure can be expected in the next few days unless relief comes earlier," a government spokesman said this morning.

TAKE RISK

"We take a calculated risk up to a certain point. Usually the early-morning shift order is followed by a full closure. The labor angle is one of our chief worries."

He added, a ban, if ordered, would not extend to use of provincial camp sites where fire places are provided, but use of other park areas probably would be curtailed.

Conditions in the Vancouver fire district, which includes all of Vancouver Island, were described by forestry officials today as "very hazardous."

NEW FIRES

In the Vancouver fire district two new fires were reported this morning, bringing the current total to seven. All are under control. Total of 123 men are carrying out patrol and mop-up duties.

Closest fires to this area are at Tofino, a small fire patrolled now by four men, and at Alert Bay, where 95 men are still engaged.

"Things aren't too serious as far as the number of fires goes, but conditions could change instantly," he stated.

Today's forestry service weather report forecasts intense drying throughout the southwestern section of the province Wednesday ... and no indication of any general rains.

There is extreme danger from fire in the Campbell River area, the forecast concluded.

At the present time MacMillan & Bloedel Ltd. has laid off about 1,800 men. Alaska Pine & Cellulose has closed the Holberg Camp on Northern Vancouver Island, laying off 100 men, and may close two additional camps in the same area.

The men are standing by the camps with only the cook house functioning, until the weekend, hoping for a break in the weather.

B.C. Forest Products Ltd. shut four camps today. They employ nearly 600 men. Three are reported to be located on Vancouver Island.

Rally to Honor 'Brigadier Ethel'

A woman who has spent most of her life in the movement will be honored Wednesday at a rally of The Salvation Army at the Citadel, 757 Pandora.

Brigadier Ethel Burnell served in Britain and Bermuda before coming to Canada to spend 11 years on the staff of the Salvation Army College in Toronto. In September, 1955, she was appointed secretary of the National Home League, a women's movement within the Army devoted to the advancement of home and community spiritual life.

Million-Dollar Fleet in Harbor For Swiftsure

Sleek ocean-going yachts valued at about $1,500,000 will be anchored in the Inner Harbor Thursday night for the International Swiftsure yachting classic which gets underway at 11 a.m. Friday.

Close to 40 entries are expected, largest field in the 136-mile event first held in 1930. Last year 23 yachts competed, a record at that time.

Four visiting yachts have arrived and 24 have already entered the race. Entries are received "almost up to the last minute," race officials said.

Record time in the Swiftsure was logged last year by the Seattle yacht Maruffa which made the course around the lightship in 25 hours 59 minutes.

Festivities will begin in the Inner Harbor Thursday, starting at 7 p.m. when Mayor Percy Scourrah will welcome visiting yachtsmen. A commentary will be given on the participating vessels; the Elks Club Band will provide music and laughs; the RCN will conduct the sunset ceremony on the lawn of the Legislative Buildings, and for the fifth year Dudley Wickett's Meistersingers will present a program of sea chanteys from the deck of the schooner Black Dog.

Entry from farthest away will be the Tasco 2, San Francisco, which came third in the race two years ago. Other entries will be from Portland, Seattle, Tacoma, Victoria and a 10-yacht fleet from Vancouver headed by club commodore, Elmer Palmer with Gometra, DeReux will race for the Royal Victoria Yacht Club and HMCS Oriole for the RCN.

The Island Tug and Barge Co. deep-sea tug Sudbury will accompany the racing yachts, with press, radio and television personnel aboard monitoring results.

Control centre will be in the main window of Eaton's.

LAMPPOSTS in downtown Victoria will be all decked this weekend with the city's famous flower baskets. They will be on view for the big Canadian mayors' convention opening Sunday. Horace Lindsey, parks nursery foreman, is shown here inspecting the 550 baskets to be put in place this weekend.

So THAT'S what the women of Paris are wearing this season to loaf around the house.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

A Lovely Back Is an Asset; Keep It Straight for Beauty

For the next few days I want to give you a little back talk. A lovely back is one of woman's most valued assets. This is especially true today when so many women wear revealing play clothes, swim suits and evening gowns.

Of course, first we need a straight spine on which to hang our hopes for beauty. Round shoulders not only crowd internal organs but ruin a graceful carriage. This habit often is formed during childhood because of slumping over desks at school. These are sometimes the wrong height for the child. Poor posture may appear at teen age when growth is so rapid that fatigue sometimes occurs. Also, this is the time of developing curves and many young girls are self-conscious about them. Sometimes round shoulders are the result of illness or a poor state of health with their resulting weariness. No matter what the cause, a woman who has pride in her appearance and in her health should try to improve this condition.

Special exercise and a determination which causes you to remind yourself to straighten up many times each day, are the remedies.

Also, we know that fat often accumulates over the shoulders across the back. This is most unsightly since it creates a roll around the brassiere. Usually this state of affairs goes along with general overweight but this is not always true. Sometimes a woman has the correct number of pounds but also battles this figure fault.

Exercise is your answer if this latter is the case. If you are overweight, count calories as well as exercise. Try this one. Lie on the floor on your back with your hips a foot or more away from the wall, depending on your height. Straighten your legs and place your heels on the wall in front of you. Cross your arms and extend the fingers of each hand in order to catch yourself with your hands. Lift the head from the floor and roll from side to side, feet still on the wall. Round your shoulders slightly. Catch yourself with your right hand as you roll to the left so that you will not go all the way over. Catch yourself with your left hand when you roll to the right.

If you would like to have my exercises to correct round shoulders, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 7 to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

FOR SAFETY SAKE

Refuse Lifts From the Careless Driver But Don't Nag Husband

OTTAWA (CP) — A pretty promoter of highway safety says that nagging a careless husband-driver will get you nowhere.

But refuse to drive with a careless driver — that's something else, says Mrs. Ethel McLellan of Toronto, director of the newly-formed women's activities bureau of the Ontario transport department's highway safety branch.

"The alternative of driving alone without a lady passenger is a pretty grim prospect for most men," Mrs. McLellan told a reporter.

She believes that most male drivers will take care — and a feminine passenger — rather than drive alone, carelessly.

Pioneering in her job to organize women for highway safety, Mrs. McLellan says women should learn the rules of the road and keep up with new traffic signals.

Children's safety education —

a good deal of it from parental example — also is part of a woman's responsibility, says Mrs. McLellan, who is a graduate of Queen's University.

California Honeymoon For Newlywed Couple

Spending a honeymoon in California are newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. David Garth Graham, who were married Saturday evening in the Centennial United Church.

Rev. T. Jackson conducted the service for Lorena Glen Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Brown, and Mr. Graham, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Graham.

A bouffant gown of white chiffon was worn by the bride, given in marriage by her father. The skirt, inset with lace, extended to a chapel train, and the neckline was accented by iridescent sequins and pearl trim. A tiara of pearls and sequins held her veil. Her only jewelry was her grandmother's diamond and pearl sunburst pendant. Pink roses and stephanotis combined with ivy formed the bride's bouquet.

Maid of honor, Miss Deanna Bosson, and bridesmaids, Misses Janice Brown and Ruth Graham, were dressed alike in white flocked-nylon over colored taffeta. Miss Bosson in pink taffeta and bridesmaids in blue taffeta. Tinted blue carnations formed a crescent bouquet for the maid of honor and pink carnations in crescent shape bouquets were carried by the bridesmaids.

Cariboo Party

Proceeds from the Cariboo coffee party planned for this Saturday between 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. in the Cathedral Memorial Hall, will go toward building of a hall for the parish and mission at Lytton. Such a hall is badly needed for all church activities, including Sunday school, women's auxiliary work and other branches.

A display of newer species of Iris and Oriental poppies will be presented at the coffee party with some paintings by Mrs. Sonia Cornwall, some photographs with Cariboo country interest from the Provincial Archives and a map of the Cariboo diocese made by Miss Susan Gibson.

Refreshments are being arranged by the St. Barnabas' Woman's Auxiliary.

Invisible Barrier Between The Canadian Sexes

Look around at almost any gathering — men gravitate to one side of the room, women to the other. Is it because the men are shy — or bored? Are the women timid — or too aggressive? Codification is the general rule, "going steady" starts in the teens, yet the interests of Canadian men and women remain firmly separated.

CAC Panel Discuss Wedding Gifts From Many Practical Standpoints

Suggested wedding gifts were attractively displayed in the Music Room of Victoria Public Library, Monday afternoon for meeting of Victoria Branch, Canadian Association of Consumers.

conservative and mild enough to blend into any home setting, she said, Mrs. A. B. Sanderson thanked the panel.

Resume of the provincial annual meeting in Victoria meeting, Cathedral Memorial Hall, Wednesday, 3 p.m.

Members of the panel included Mrs. Dexter Stockdill, representative from the CAC Industrial Design Council; Mrs. Ian Simpson, Mrs. H. S. Clarke and Mrs. W. A. Porter.

Points on how to select gifts for the bride and groom-elect were made by Mrs. Stockdill who said that the buyer should keep in mind that gifts give pleasure and satisfaction to the recipient besides being practical in taste and design. Giver must determine whether the young couple prefer design that is contemporary, traditional or modernistic.

Mrs. Simpson spoke on giving glass ware. She explained that plain crystal was an ideal gift for most couples as it would tie into most dinner setting schemes. She suggested that a member of the bride's family be consulted before the purchase is completed. "Cooking ware as a wedding gift is highly suitable for the working couple who spend little time at home," said Mrs. Clarke who described aluminum and steel kitchen ware. She explained the quality of the various wares and the metals included in their construction.

Mrs. Porter spoke on china as a suitable marriage present. Design and color should be

Negro Minister Swaps Pulpits With City Man

A unique forward step in racial relationships will be taken in Victoria when Rev. A. I. Avery of St. Aidan's United Church exchanges pulpits with a Negro minister from Los Angeles during the month of July.

Visiting minister here will be Rev. Nelson B. Higgins, 38, of Normandy Methodist Church, a former star halfback on the Notre Dame football team.

"Our congregation is absolutely thrilled about it," Mr. Avery said today. "It will do a lot to encourage racial integration in Canada, particularly in relation to Indians."

Native Indians in this country are "just as neglected" as Negroes in the United States, he said. "We in Canada think we haven't any racial problems, but we very definitely have."

Idea for the pulpit exchange was formed when Mr. Avery saw a picture of the Negro minister in an American news magazine two years ago.

The story told how Mr. Higgins took over an all-white Normandy church when it "started to die." Although Negroes had moved by the hundreds into the area, they were not welcomed to the church, Mr. Avery said.

When the white minister was replaced by a Negro, the small white congregation left. But by the end of the first week Mr. Higgins had wooed each member back, and that Sunday morning saw the "largest congregation—whites and Negroes—in the history of the church."

Mr. Avery immediately wrote the minister suggesting a pulpit exchange and received an airmail reply of "100 per cent approval."

Mr. Avery will leave July 7 with his family to preach in the Los Angeles church.

Last year he exchanged with an Indian minister from Morley Alta. Mr. Avery preached for two years on an Indian reserve at Norway House, Man., before coming to St. Aidan's.

CITY WON'T PAY FOR AIR

Mayor Percy Scourrah said today that the city will not pay for re-installation of the centennial balloons going up—and down—on downtown streets.

He said that the problem-plagued program is being underwritten by private contributions to the Greater Victoria Centennial Committee.

Although city light department employees are re-installing the frequently deflated balloons, no tax money is being used to cover the cost of the work, he said.

Union Slate Installed By Printers

Jack D. Chapman has been installed for a third term as president of Victoria Typographical Union, No. 201, by A. "Sandy" Bevis, international representative from Indianapolis, Ind.

Other officers installed were N. P. McConnell, vice-president, and W. Richardson, secretary-treasurer.

Elected to the executive committee were J. F. Hough, S. Jenkins, A. Palmer and E. Miles. Mr. Hough, G. Gunniss and J. R. Begg were named to the news scale committee, and on the job scale committee are T. Ferris, J. Jameson and N. P. McConnell.

Mr. Jenkins was named delegate to the International Typographical Union convention to be held at San Francisco in August.

Special notice was taken of the retirement of H. Warren, who resigned from the post of secretary-treasurer after 13 consecutive years of service.

Premier Confident Wenner-Gren Dam Plans Going Ahead

Some "very satisfactory" dam sites on the Peace River system have been located by Wenner-Gren exploratory crews, Premier W. A. C. Bennett said Monday.

He said he had received no written report on the matter yet, but he had no doubt the development of power resources on the Peace would go ahead.

The premier indicated he would review the planned northern development during a speech to the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities here next Monday.

3-Year Licence Issued for Ferry

A three-year ferry licence for operation between Hornby and Denman Islands was granted Albert J. Savole of Hornby Island, Monday.

The order-in-council approving the ferry service noted Mr. Savole was the sole bidder for the toll ferry which will operate under the Department of Highways.

A new ferry will be placed in operation by the department between Thetis, Kuper and Vancouver Island soon, it was also reported.

'COPYRIGHT' DEFIED

He Won't Detour From Mile Zero

George Warren, managing secretary of Victoria Automobile Club, today defied Dawson Creek Junior Chamber of Commerce to stop him erecting a Mile Zero signpost to mark the western terminus of the Trans-Canada Highway at Victoria.

"We have no intention of abandoning our plans to erect the sign," Mr. Warren said today.

The Dawson Creek Junior Chamber claims that it copyrighted the Mile Zero post in 1954 and Victoria Auto Club has no right to use it.

In a letter to Mr. Warren, director Philip Shier asked Mr. Warren for a written assurance that the auto club had abandoned use of the sign. He also asked Mr. Warren to "retract" his statement that the Junior Chamber has no proprietary right to the post.

In his reply, Mr. Warren wrote: "We do not intend to retract any remarks we have made regarding erection of this sign. Nor do we intend to abandon any plans for erection of the sign."

Mr. Warren said he was "at a loss to understand" how the Mile Zero post could have been copyrighted since it had been in common use for a number of years.

"ANOTHER GIMMICK" He recalled attending a ceremony at Lillooet 10 or 12 years ago when a cairn and post were erected and dedicated marking Mile Zero of the Cariboo Highway.

Dawson Creek senior Chamber of Commerce has also written to Mr. Warren suggesting that, as the Mile Zero post is copyrighted by the Junior Chamber, the auto club should adopt "another advertising gimmick."

"We shall do nothing of the kind," Mr. Warren snorted.

Address your questions to "Ask Andy," Victoria Daily Times.

Andy sends a complete, 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia to Marcella Burek, 11 Utica, N.Y., for her question:

How Does a Hollow Tree Stay Alive?

The largest living thing is a tree and the oldest living thing is a tree. General Sherman, giant of Sequoia National Park, California, holds the world's record for size. This elegant monarch is as tall as a 25-story building, his topmost twigs are 272 feet above the ground. There is enough redwood in his mighty trunk to build a small town. The General is 3,500 years old. But certain bristlecone pines, also growing in the California Sierra, could call him Junior. One of these ancient stubby trees is 4,600 years old and quite a few were 1,000 years old when the General was a sapling.

Each Ring in Trunk Marks Year

When these factors are right, the tree adds new growth to its trunk every year. This is necessary for the tree to stay alive. For the sap and vital tree fluids are carried only in this new wood. And these vital new cells are added around the outside of the tree trunk: ring by ring, each year.

The wood in the centre of the trunk was made years ago when the tree was young. The cells no longer carry precious sap and fro. When this work was done, they became hard woody cells. Their job then was to support the leafy arms of the tree.

Rings of new cells grew around the trunk year by year to fetch and carry.

In time these outer cells were buried under new rings. They, too, lent their strength to supporting the tree. The inner heartwood of the trunk became very old and hard and dry. It was a temptation to wood-eating insects and to bacteria and fungus plants that feed on wood.

The centre of the tree was attacked and its dry old heartwood was chewed to powder. The trunk of the tree became a hollow. But there was still a sturdy band of wood around the hole. An owl built his nest in the hollow and a squirrel used it as a hiding place. A woodchuck used the floor as a bedroom. And the hollow in the tree grew bigger.

Each year, rings of new cells were added around the trunk and last year's cells became woody supports. Each year moisture was drawn up from the ground and a crop of green leaves made enough plant food for growth to continue.

The tree did not miss the strong support from the centre of the trunk. It went on growing for many, many years. But at last it failed. During a fierce storm, the hollow trunk was unable to hold up the lofty branches. A loud crash mingled with the thunder as the ancient tree toppled. The same storm brought down a stender sapling, too weak to stand in the face of the gale. Both trees were done for. They no longer had an unbroken chain of new woody cells to carry moisture from roots to twigs, their broken trunks could no longer support their leafy boughs in the sunny air.

BOY SCOUT ACTIVITIES

By FREEMAN KING

COWICHAN VALLEY DISTRICT: During the "Jamboree-on-the-Air," when Scouts all over the world made contact by means of amateur radio stations, the Cowichan Valley district commissioner was able May 10, through the co-operation of W. Wadsworth, to convey a greeting to his opposite number in Sutton Coldfield, England, site of the World Jamboree in 1957.

VICTORIA DISTRICT: The next meeting of the Alek Council, June 5, will be held outdoors.

Mrs. K. Cleghorn, chairman, asks that Alek and assistant Cubmasters meet at Scout headquarters, 1034 Johnson Street, at 7:45. Transportation can be arranged.

Aleak wishing to take in the Parkville Cub rally on June 7 can phone Mrs. M. Smith, 2-9998, for information.

Tenderfoot: John Stewart of the Gonzales Troop and Jerry Lavalle of the Belmont Troop.

Cub Instructors: Robert Brothman, Dennis MacKinnon.

(OSCAR CLASS) "THE SONG OF BERNADETTE" (Plaza) — To commemorate the 100th anniversary of the Miracle at Lourdes, 20th Century Fox has released its superbly executed adaptation of Franz Werfel's "The Song of Bernadette," which, back in 1943, won an Academy Award for Jennifer Jones.

With all the technical advances made in the ensuing 15 years, such as the wide screens, stereophonic sound and the changed form of presentation by the actors themselves, it is amazing that the story about Bernadette Soubirous, the maid from Lourdes who saw a vision

"Escapade in Japan"
If you liked "The Kidnappers," you will love this exciting adventure of two 7-year-old runaways in Japan. Yes, this film takes you deep into the seldom seen corners of real Japan. Filmed in radiant technicolor, the film's scenic beauty almost overbears everything else. Stars are: Teresa Wright and Cameron Mitchell; she runaways are Jon Provost (now of Lassie fame), and Roger Nazkawa. Don't miss this, whatever you do. PARENTS, even if there is school tomorrow, the children should see this with you!

BERNADETTE, who was born at Lourdes, France, in 1844, was a peasant girl who was not noted for her brightness, standing about last in her class. But on February 11, 1858, in a grotto, she beheld a vision. Her last visitation by a "Beautiful Lady" was on July 16 of the same year. In all she had 18. But long before her last the story of the miracle had spread like wildfire throughout France in spite of the fact that church and state had done everything to suppress the stories.

Among the miracles attributed to Bernadette was the sudden appearance of a spring gushing by the grotto. A dying infant was immersed in the water and became healthy again. The mayor of Lourdes, hoping to turn the spring into a profitable enterprise orders the grotto closed and a fence erected around the spring. A drink of the water cures the desperately ill son of Louis Napoleon and the emperor orders the grotto reopened to the public.

It is then that Peyramale, Dean of Lourdes, tells Bernadette that she must accept her destiny, to serve the church, and she enters the convent at Nevers. Bernadette died in 1879 at 35. She was canonized by the Roman Catholic Church in 1933.

NEW YORK (AP)—Elfrida von Nardoff of Brooklyn raised her television winnings to $216,500 Monday night and became the all-time high winner for a single TV quiz show. Miss von Nardoff broke the record when she defeated Frederick Rein of Alexandria, Va., by a score of 20-1 on the NBC show Twenty-One.

Bennett Asks Cider Profit
Cut to Same Margin as Beer
B.C. Apple cider, which first went on sale here last Friday, may be reduced in price. Premier W. A. C. Bennett said Monday he had recommended to the B.C. Liquor Control Board that the margin of profit for cider be the same as for local beer. Cider sells now for $4.50 a dozen, compared to $2.52 for beer. Earlier Attorney-General Robert Bonner said he thought the beer and cider prices would be approximately the same. The premier said he felt it would cost more to produce cider than beer, but it should not be considered as a wine, and the profit margin should be the same as beer.

Are you using your settlement options?

At one time life insurance policyowners had no option. Policy proceeds were paid in cash — in one lump sum. Beneficiaries faced all the dangers and problems that go with managing a large sum of money.

Today most life insurance policies have "built-in" income options that will give your beneficiary a continuous income without investment worries. For example — you can arrange with your life insurance company to pay a monthly income for 10 years, 15 years or for a lifetime.

The Man from Manufacturers can show you how settlement options can increase your policy benefits as much as 25% without increasing premiums. Give him a call today for more information on this valuable life insurance "extra".

Belmont Scrapes 1-Point Victory Over Salt Spring at Sports Meet

Athletes representing Salt Spring Junior-Senior High School barely missed upsetting Belmont High in the annual inter-district high school track and field meet at Victoria High School grounds Saturday.

Belmont finally nosed out the Island squad by a single point, 87-86, to win the team title for the second straight year. Mount Newton, with 55 points, finished third in the meet, followed by North Saanich, with 35 points, and Milne's Landing, with 27.

C. Butt of Salt Spring took the junior boys' 220-yard dash, broad jump and hop, step and jump. D. Reynolds, also of Salt Spring, won the senior boys' 880-yard event.

Setting the pace for the winning Belmont squad was C. Hall, who won the junior girls' high jump and hop, step and jump competitions.

People and Things

LONDON—American singer Jerry Lee Lewis and his 13-year-old bride packed up and headed for home today as British theatres cancelled the rock 'n' roll shouter's tour in the face of rising public resentment.

"It's all very unfortunate," said Oscar Davis, manager of the theatre, "and there could be a reaction in the States."

Lewis was greeted in London Monday night with catcalls, boos and shouts of "go home, you cradle snatcher."

A sinister silence greeted his first number.

"Yawl seem awful quiet out there," drawled Jerry Lee. "I sho hope yawl ain't as half dead as yawl sound."

In the parlance of show business, Jerry Lee was asking for it.

"Go home, you crumb," someone shouted.

"Go home, baby snatcher," yelled someone else.

"We've had enough of you," chorused several angry young men.

Lewis put down his head, played away at his piano, sang above the din and finished his show.

Later, a crowd gathered outside his dressing room and howled through a key hole.

PLYMOUTH, England — "Smellyvision" made its debut here Sunday.

It's a television set containing scent bottles that release their odors to tie in what's shown on the screen. An electrical impulse from the transmitter triggers a waft of odors from a seaplane, the odor of flowers when there's a garden scene.

The pioneer model has four smells so far.

Its inventor, William Rose.

ROTTERHAM, Eng. — Dr. Marion Tinsley, 31, a mathematician from Columbus, Ohio, won the world checkers championship here Saturday.

He defeated Britain's Derek Oldbury in the 34th of their series of 40 games to take a winning 9-1 lead. Twenty-four games have been drawn.

OAKLAND, Calif. — Hiram Franklin Deane sat back contentedly after dinner Monday night and lit the 32,486th cigar of his life. It was the first in a birthday package of 107—one for each of Deane's years. Deane, a retired piano tuner, figures he's been smoking a cigar a day since he was 16.

CHICAGO—A singer has been awarded $35,000 damages because a car accident dropped her voice from high to mezzo soprano. Mrs. Ruth Bowers, Gallatin, 41, testified in court that because of her injuries she lost her job as a radio singer and is no longer able to obtain private singing engagements.

NEW YORK — Mrs. Lillias Dulles Hinchey, daughter of State Secretary John Foster Dulles, will graduate tonight from Union Theological Seminary, looking toward a career in the Presbyterian ministry.

Two years ago Avery R. Dulles, the state secretary's youngest son, was ordained a Roman Catholic priest. Dulles himself is a prominent Presbyterian layman.

Mrs. Hinchey, 43, is the wife of Robert Hinchey, a public relations executive who is a Quaker. They have three children.

200 GUARDS FOR NEGRO'S GRADUATION

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI) — More than 200 National Guardsmen and police will be on hand tonight when an 18-year-old Negro boy becomes the first of his race to receive a diploma from heretofore-segregated Central High School.

Ernest Green, one of nine Negroes admitted to the school last September, will be the lone Negro receiving a diploma in commencement exercises in the high school stadium.

The stadium, served last fall as a bivouac for army troops ordered by President Eisenhower to enforce court-ordered integration in the face of segregationist-inspired riots.

A guardsman with a nightstick followed Green Monday as he went through rehearsal for tonight's program. When Green's name was called to receive his imaginary diploma, a few students laughed, but most of them applauded.

Divided Ceylon Torn by Riots

State of Emergency Proclaimed As Fight Flares Over Language

COLOMBO, Ceylon (Reuters)—A state of emergency was proclaimed throughout Ceylon today in the face of fresh clashes between the country's two main language groups.

The action came following the death of 18 persons in the last five days in riots between the Sinhalese and Tamil communities in the east and north-central provinces. Three persons were killed and several more injured when police opened fire on a violent mob in Polonnaruwa, north-central Ceylon.

The government also banned the federal party, which claims to represent the Tamil-speaking population, and the recently formed Jataka Vimukti Peramuna organization of Sinhalese.

A dusk-to-dawn curfew was imposed in Colombo until further notice after a night of arson, looting and assault sparked by demands to give the Tamil language equal status with the official Sinhalese.

Security forces were reported to have opened fire on mobs in the turbulent eastern and north-central provinces and towns in the central, northwestern and western provinces.

STORES, SCHOOLS SHUT

No stores in the Pettah and Maradana Bazaar areas of Colombo were open today. Most schools in the city declared a vacation for the rest of the week.

Nearly 200 persons were beaten up in the city Monday. Twice that number spent the

Princeton Brewery Sale Confirmed

CALGARY (CP) — Calgary Brewing & Malting Co. has purchased B.C. Princeton Brewing Company, president J. B. Cross announced Monday.

He would not disclose the purchase price but said Calgary Brewing had started to move some of its staff into the B.C. company. The west coast firm is to be modernized and new equipment will be installed, Mr. Cross said.

He gave no further details on Calgary Brewing's plans.

SELF-RULE SET FOR SINGAPORE

LONDON (Reuters)—British and Singapore officials agreed today on the "substance of the provisions" of a new constitution which will give the island colony full internal self-government.

The agreement was announced in a press communiqué.

The meetings, begun two weeks ago, were of the conference's technical working party made up of five Singapore delegates and senior colonial office officials and legal experts.

Christian Democrats Fail To Win Majority in Italy

ROME (AP) — Italy's pro-Western Christian Democrats lost their parliamentary strength in the weekend election but once more fell short of a majority in the face of matching gains by the Leftist forces.

The Christian Democrats appeared to have emerged from Sunday's and Monday's voting strong enough to continue to govern Italy as they have since the war, but will have to proceed cautiously in a coalition for lack of a majority.

The big losers in the national balloting were on the right—the Monarchists and Fascists—as an estimated 94 per cent of the 32,500,000 eligible voters cast their ballots.

The Communists and fellow-travelling socialists gained after campaigning against installation of North Atlantic Treaty Organization bases in Italy. The gains showed they had overcome the setback they were believed to have suffered when Russia crushed the 1956 Hungarian uprising and Premier Khrushchev exposed Stalin's crimes.

Seal-O-Matic Shingles hold tight even in HURRICANE WINDS!

The only self-sealing asphalt shingles proved on over 300,000 homes — cost as little as $14.50 a month

Johns-Manville patented Seal-O-Matic Asphalt Shingles have a continuous stripe of special adhesive on the underside of each shingle. The sun's heat automatically seals down the entire shingle edge and bonds it so firmly that it holds fast even in gale winds. The continuous seal also prevents rain and snow from being driven up under the shingle and thereby causing leaks.

Set the complete color range at your J-M dealer, or, write for free folder to Dept. BA-N5, Canadian Johns-Manville, Port Credit, Ontario.

Only J-M Seal-O-Matic Shingles offer all of these features

- The adhesive stripe across entire tab of every shingle provides maximum sealing.
- The adhesive stripe on the underside of every shingle provides natural downward sealing.
- The adhesive stripe at the lower edge of each shingle seals the critical first row of shingles.

Swiss Railways Pay

LONDON—British Railways, in the throes of the dilemma of how to provide their workers with higher wages and have the railroad system on something like a paying basis, have a simple answer over there in Switzerland but the government won't let them follow the Swiss example. Alone of the European railroads, those of Switzerland pay their way. In France, for instance, there's an annual deficit of over $150 million and the supposedly efficient Germans lost just on the same amount last year.

But in 1956 Switzerland showed a neat $3½ million profit from her publicly-owned railways and the figure for 1957 is expected to be even higher. How do they do it? By the simple expedient of making the passengers pay higher fares to ensure that the railway system won't show a loss.

In France and Germany the fares are just a shade higher than those in Britain. But in Switzerland they're higher by 50 per cent, and more, depending how you travel. On a 50-mile trip, for instance, Swiss first-class passengers pay $2.70 compared to the Britishers' $1.80 and in second-class the difference is $2 and $1.20.

REYBURN

If they could charge Swiss prices the headaches of British Railways would be over. They could make the system pay and could provide decent wages for the workers, especially for the train drivers, the men who have a really legitimate beef.

Porters lounging around the Flying Scotsman at Euston Station earn more, through basic wage and tips, than the man with the responsibility of driving the train up to Scotland.

But the government says no. British Railways can't have Swiss-type increases. If the rail charges went up substantially so, too, would the cost of living—and it would start a spiral of wage demands from workers in other industries.

The English should be thankful for the character-building qualities of their climate, according to homespun philosopher Laurence Easterbrook:

"It always keeps them guessing and that may be why they hate making theoretical plans in advance and have developed a native resourcefulness for dealing with emergencies. 'When unexpected rain spoils a picnic or fine weather from nowhere makes him curse the cloying mackintosh in which he started the day, the Englishman should remember it is this unexpectedness that has had much to do with breeding a race nimble in mind and resourceful in meeting all the little problems in life.'"

What Keeps A Husband Faithful?

Our morals (and the law) say that a man should limit himself sexually to one woman for life. Yet, many husbands commit marital infidelity. Why? Kinsey thinks husbands are faithful only because of "concern for public opinion."

But June Reader's Digest says most psychologists think a new pattern of marriage is developing. Read why some husbands are unfaithful and how happy marriages can be created. Get your June Reader's Digest today.

Ferry Strike 'Dam' Urged by C of C

An emergency meeting of some 200 members of Victoria Chamber of Commerce Monday passed two resolutions aimed at ending the CPR ferry strike and preventing it from happening again.

The meeting adopted a resolution by Mayor Percy Scurrah requesting the Seafarers' International Union to accept arbitration of its wage dispute. A similar request was sent by city council earlier to the CPR and SIU. It was accepted conditionally by the CPR.

Mayor Scurrah said the request was aimed at reinstating the ferry service immediately with details of the disagreement to "be left to a board of inquiry."

The businessmen also gave unanimous approval to a resolution urging the federal government to refer any labor dispute to arbitration where it is "considered that a strike or lockout would place in jeopardy the safety and general welfare of the public."

George Wheaton, who proposed the resolution, said the arbitration should be carried out by the judiciary. It would be binding on both sides.

PLEA TO OTTAWA

Mr. Wheaton's resolution also asked the federal government to use the proposed legislation to end "the current tie-up of coastal shipping in B.C."

It was decided to ask all other Vancouver Island communities and the Canadian Chamber of Commerce to support the compulsory arbitration resolution.

At the request of president Hugh Stephen, Justin Harbord withdrew a resolution for the appointment of a fact-finding committee to investigate the claims and arguments of both parties in the CPR-SIU dispute.

Mr. Harbord felt the public should know "all the facts."

He was not satisfied, he said, with the claims of the CPR with regard to wages it was paying to seamen.

They differed from claims of the seamen, he said.

"I would also like to know if there is any foundation for certain reports that the CPR won't allow any other sea transportation company to compete with its service to the mainland."

Mr. Stephen said such a committee could be appointed at a later date.

"But for the moment we are trying to find ways and means of ending the strike which is crippling the tourist trade," he said. "The meeting was called for this purpose."

Shaky Feeling?

Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic and Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation

Many persons want to know why, at times, they get queer, jittery spells in which, perhaps, they feel shaky all over. Some feel as if they might go into a chill; others feel a quivering inside, or they feel trembly, or as if something awful were going to happen to them. Some break into a sweat; their heart may race and thump; they may feel numb all over, or they may feel pins and needles here and there; they break out in gooseflesh; they may feel like running to the toilet; they may feel weak in the knees, and they may feel as if they were going to faint, or black-out.

Such people keep asking, "What are these spells—what do they mean?" And often I say, "Your unsteady nerves are just playing tricks with many parts of your body." When they ask, "But why do I have the spells so often?" my first question is, "Are there any very nervous or eccentric or poorly-adjusted or epileptic people among your immediate forebears—persons who could have bequeathed you an erratic set of nerves?" And practically always the person says, "Yes; mother was just like me"; or "my Aunt Julia, who once had a bad nervous breakdown, had these 'same spells,' or 'My daughter already is getting them.'"

Fortunately, most persons have these spells for years without coming to any bad end. Especially when these jitters have been coming for a few years, they cannot mean that any organ is seriously diseased. The "storms" are coming out of the brain. Sometimes a woman with these spells can help herself much by learning to live with herself and others much more peacefully. She can avoid stupid and tiring conflicts over many things—most of them unimportant. Many persons get help from reading my booklet, "How to Live With Your Nerves."

I constantly keep seeing people who look at health very differently from the way in which I look at it. To me, the body is a mechanism which, in most persons, has a remarkable tendency to stay well, or to repair itself whenever it does break down in some spot. Hence it is that I rarely think of taking any medicine.

But often I see a person in the office who seems to think that, unless each day he keeps taking medicine of several kinds, his health is sure to fail. If I ask to see what he has in his pocket he will show me a tranquilizer or two, several vitamins, some iron, some liver extract, an antihistaminic, a relaxant for the muscle in his bowel, perhaps two or three "tonics," a laxative, and a barbiturate or two. This fellow is not taking any chances with his health! What is sad is that it does not occur to him that it might take perfect care of itself, without any help from him.

Every so often a man of 75 or 80 comes in, just beginning to suffer from a cancer or a high blood pressure, and he tells me that only once or twice in his life did he ever need to go near a physician. Very different from him is the woman who brings for me a list covering three or four typewritten pages, telling of all the many operations and treatments she has had each year ever since she was 20.

NO CHILDREN

Many people want to know what they should do when, after several years of marriage, they have no children. The thing to do is go to a physician—and preferably one who is interested in the problems of fertility. A gynecologist can test the wife to see if she seems to be all right, and he can have the husband tested. Naturally, there is no use in wasting a lot of money on having the wife operated on or treated if the fault is all the husband's, and often it is his. Especially in centuries past, many an unhappy woman has had to take all the blame for infertility, when it really was her husband's fault.

Experts in this field of medicine often can help infertile couples to have the children they want. There are a number of things that can be done to the wife and the husband.

Red Shield Can't Meet Goal; Drive Extended

Red Shield appeal reached $18,600 Monday, but with only one week to go the Salvation Army is far short of its $40,000 goal.

"We'll have to extend the campaign beyond the month," Brigadier C. J. Milley said. Volunteer canvassers are still needed in the residential areas. Persons interested should call the Salvation Army Citadel, 2-5741.

Wednesday morning. Not quite so warm. Light winds becoming southwest 20 both afternoons. Low tonight and high Wednesday 50 and 65.

Vancouver - Georgia Strait: Clear and warm today and Wednesday. Light winds occasionally west 15 both afternoons. Low tonight and high Wednesday at Vancouver 55 and 78; Nanaimo 52 and 85.

West Coast: Extensive patches of fog and low cloud along the outer coast and clear elsewhere today and Wednesday. Light winds. Low tonight and high Wednesday at Estevan Point 52 and 60.

HOME GARDEN

Good Gladioli Depend on Corms

If gardening conformed to a schedule we can safely say it is "off schedule" this year. Mid-May to mid-June is the usual time for the planting of gladioli. In some gardens this has been done, but quite a few calls have come in during the past week or so in regard to planting.

There are several types and a wide range of colors from which to choose, but results will depend a lot on selecting good corms. As with all bulbs, the quality is proportional to the price. Gladioli corms are graded according to size, shape and quality, and the price varies according to the grade.

Look for firm corms, undamaged, and with no dark spots. The corm which will give the best flower spike is about the size of a man's thumbnail, and greater in height than in width.

Gladioli require full sun, or at least six hours a day. Prepare the soil thoroughly in advance of planting and allow time for settling. The larger the corm the deeper it requires planting. The size of corm described would be put five or six inches deep in light, sandy soil, or three inches deep in heavy soil.

Distance between corms depends on the size and habit of the variety. In rows, four to six inches is sufficient, but irregular placement in beds requires six to 10 inches to permit cultivation of other plants.

To extend the garden display plant a few corms each week until mid-June. This method also provides spikes for the many fall shows.

After planting keep the soil just moist until the leaf spears are well through the soil. Then water well and deeply.

When the leaves are six inches high it is time to start the fight against gladioli thrips. DDT has been used successfully, and dieldrin is increasing in popularity, used every 15 to 20 days until blossom time. The dipping of corms before planting is being replaced by the use of dusts such as botano-

Toronto Prices Dip In Light Trading

Industrial betters their position slightly but the Toronto stock market remained down today in light mid-afternoon trading.

Losers included Steel Company of Canada, Imperial Oil, Canada Cement, Ford A and International Nickel. Among winners were Toronto-Dominion Bank, Canadian Breweries, Bell Phone, Canadian Traction, Dominion Stores and Interprovincial Pipe Line.

Prices were narrowly uneven in sluggish trading on the New York market today. A feature was Crane Co., down about 2 after it announced a dividend of 20 cents instead of its previous 50 cents. Goodyear dropped more than a point.

AT TORONTO—changes among golds were small. Kerr-Addison gained $\frac{1}{2}$ at 19 and Pickle Crow, Macassa and Martell were ahead a few pennies. Senior mines passed base metals.

Western oils were widely traded with profit-taking continuing. Down were Calgary and Edmonton, Home Oil A and B, Pacific Petroleum and Royalite.

JUDGING 600 children's entries in Eaton's Century Sam coloring contest are Laurie Wallace, B.C. centennial committee chairman, and Mrs. Peggy Walton Packard, artist. Contest was open to children attending grades 1, 2 and 3 in Greater Victoria school system. Winner of $25 prize was Darlene Sherry Meads, 8, 1 Obed Avenue. Timmy Venton, 6, 1338 Minto, and Marilyn Joe, Craigflower Reserve, tied for second place. Each will receive $10. Fifty centennial dollars will be given to children as consolation prizes.

... HERE AND THERE ... With NORMAN CRIBBENS

A man who refuses to travel anywhere by plane will arrive in Victoria later this week—Black Ball Lines permitting.

He is R. A. Mackie, who, as general manager of Canadian Pacific hotels, is now on a cross-Canada tour from his office in Montreal.

Believe it or not, our new and very expensive B.C. cider was sold out at the Johnson Street liquor store Monday night. A fresh supply is expected today.

The most cheerful man I know is Leonard Metcalfe, a victim of multiple sclerosis, who sells papers, magazines and flags at the corner of Government and Bellevue every day from 3 to 7 p.m.

Winter and summer, six days a week, Mr. Metcalfe sits tranquilly in his auto car facing the harbor and smiles —a happy smile—at everyone who passes.

He has done this, through sun, wind and rain, since 1932 and many folk set their watches when he drives up at 3 p.m. with the home edition of The Times.

One of his best customers is Premier Bennett, who likes to chat with Mr. Metcalfe when buying his favorite newspaper.

Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane does not care for some of those collegiate phrases that are being bandied about nowadays.

He rebuked a young motorist in Supreme Court who said, "I went for the brakes," when faced with a collision.

"What do you mean by that?" asked His Lordship.

"Either you applied the brakes or you did not. When you say 'I went for the brakes' it implies that you did not even know where they were."

TOPICS OF THE DAY

A dazzling display of custom cars and hot rods will form the Quarter-Milers' Centennial Autorama Friday and Saturday at the Curling Club.

The show will kick off an Island-wide drive to raise funds for a properly constructed drag strip.

Some 12 hot rod clubs on the Island will participate in the drive.

Canadians are said to have two left feet on the dance floor but a Victoria naturopath will try and disprove this when he leaves Wednesday for Toronto and the Canadian amateur ballroom dancing championships.

The husband and wife team of Dr. and Mrs. Ronald Holtum, 1554 Despard, are the first western dancers to compete in the annual affair sponsored by the Canadian Dance Teachers' Association and inaugurated in Halifax in 1956.

James W. Armstrong, 844 Dunsmuir, changed his plea to guilty and was fined $250 in Esquimalt police court Monday for impaired driving.

He was remanded a week for a probation report on the matter of driver's licence suspension.

General offices in the new Oak Bay municipal building will likely be ready within two weeks, Reeve Fred Norris told council Monday.

Official opening will be held some time in July.

The monthly meeting of the Institute of Power Engineers, Victoria Branch, will be held in the Flame Room at the B.C. Electric Building, 820 Pandora, tonight at 7.30.

Guest speaker for the educational portion of the program will be Russ Davis of the Electronics Corporation of America, who will discuss flame failure control. The subject should prove interesting to those using oil as fuel.

Free public transportation will be run to Royal Oak Cemetery Sunday starting at 1.30 p.m.

Tickets may be obtained from McCall-Davey Drugs, 1469 Douglas St.

Stamps and cash totalling $20 were stolen in a weekend burglary at provincial Motor Vehicles Branch, deputy superintendent Ray Hadfield told city police Monday.

It was earlier believed nothing was stolen from the premises, which were thoroughly ransacked after entry was gained by a south side fire escape.

Oak Bay service stations will continue to close at 6 p.m.

Council Monday went along with the request of service station operators who had petitioned council that hours remain the same, though later closing is allowed under new provincial regulations.

TIMES ASK The

Q. Can you tell me the date of birth of Florence Nightingale?—E.F.T.

A. Florence Nightingale, "The Lady With the Lamp," was born in Florence, Italy (thus her first name), May 8, 1820. She died in London, England, Aug. 13, 1910. As you doubtless know, she was the heroine of modern nursing.

Q. Can you please tell me the dates when poets Elizabeth Barrett Browning and Robert Browning were born, married and died?—E. L. M.

A. Robert Browning was born in London, May 7, 1812, and died in Venice, Dec. 12, 1889. His wife, Elizabeth, was born in Durham, England, March 6, 1806, and died in Florence in 1861. They were married in 1846.

The ogre of television seems to be fighting a losing battle in Greater Victoria if figures released by the Victoria Public Library recently are any indication.

Lower Islanders borrowed 14½ per cent more books from the library in 1957 than in 1956 and 25 per cent more than in 1955.

The increase was apparent in all municipalities being greater in Saanich and less in Victoria.

Due to the fire hazard, the road on Little Saanich Mountain leading to the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory will be closed to the public after 5 p.m. starting today.

Exception is during the public viewing period from 9 to 11 p.m. Saturday.

Saturday, Sunday and holidays the road will be closed all day, with the one exception until further notice.

Department of labor conciliation officer W. T. McLaughlin of Victoria was appointed Monday to act in a dispute between 150 electrical workers and 23 contractors in Victoria, Nanaimo, Port Alberni and Campbell River.

The men are members of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Local No. 230. Changes in both wages and working conditions are involved.

A meeting of the View Royal Garden Club will be held Wednesday 8 p.m. in the View Royal Community Hall.

Civic licensing and regulation of boarding homes used as nursing homes for the aged may be recommended at a Victoria-Esquimalt union board of health meeting tonight.

The board scheduled an "open" meeting at 8 p.m. in the city health centre to consider an 18-month study of the situation by a sub-committee. Councilors from outside municipalities were invited to attend.

GREAT BALLS OF FIRE, WHAT CAME WITH THE DAWN?

Early Birds Startled by Mystery Flash Over City

A dazzling, fiery object hurtling through the sky over Victoria startled residents shortly before dawn today.

Most detailed report on the sighting came from Wilfred Pyle, 89 Sims, a driver for Alert Service.

On his regular mail run from Nanaimo, he saw the blazing object just after crossing the Malahat.

"I was in the Goldstream area," he said. "I saw a cone-shaped, brilliant mass, about three feet in diameter. It was dazzling bright at the front part, and appeared to have a glow around it.

"I judged it to be about 200 feet high, just over the tops of the trees, about 100 yards in front of me. It scared the daylight out of me.

"It seemed to be slanting toward the ground. At the angle it was going, it looked as if it would hit the ground in about 500 yards. It was travelling at high speed, I've never seen or heard of anything like it."

Mr. Pyle reported the time as 4.10 a.m.

A naval officer on duty at HMC Dockyard also reported a fiery object, at about 4.15 a.m.

The officer, on guard duty, was walking from jetty A, the destroyer jetty, toward the drydock — which would put his back to the Goldstream area where Mr. Pyle made his sighting.

The officer said the object was travelling in the same direction he was walking.

"I caught sight of it first out of the corner of my eye," he said, "and thought at first it was a Bofors gun firing tracer shells. Then I realized it was up in the sky.

"It was not like any falling star I've seen. It was very bright, and seemed to have a blue flame around it. In about three seconds, it disappeared from sight, as though it had gone into outer space."

Night operators at both local radio stations received half a dozen anonymous reports of a mysterious, bright object flashing through the sky.

Only possible "astronomical explanation," according to Dr. R. M. Petrie, director of the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory, is that the object was an exceptionally bright meteorite.

Medical Scheme Possible, But 'Not Socialism'

Secrecy Shun Word But May Pay Costs

B.C. Health Minister Eric Martin today emphatically denied his government would introduce "socialized medicine" in B.C.

But he did not deny B.C. Hospital Insurance may be extended to meet medical costs.

In a written statement and a subsequent interview today, the minister strove to make it plain such a program should not be construed as socialized medicine.

It is known there have been private objections registered by B.C. medical practitioners following recent speculation that a state medicine plan would be a Social Credit plank in the next election platform.

MARTIN'S STATEMENT

This is the statement the minister issued:

"I would like to make a public statement of importance. The policy of the provincial government does not include socialized medicine; we have never been in favor of it, and never will be in favor of it.

"I want it clearly understood that this government is unalterably opposed to socializing this important aspect of our provincial health."

Today Mr. Martin added: "A patient must be free to choose his own doctor, and the doctor must be able to follow a patient into hospital."

He referred to a brief presented by Premier W. A. C. Bennett at a federal-provincial conference at Ottawa in November, 1957. It stated a national health program should include "medical care service."

ONLY PAY CLAIMS

"There is no doubt people of this province want protection against medical costs. It will come in due time," the minister said.

But, "... socialism is a centralization of power." He said it would be socialism if "... we took over the hospitals and operated them. We only pay claims on behalf of patients."

"Payment of medical costs through the government would not mean socialized medicine."

J. C. GARNETT
... a Royal Engineer

RES TO RAISE IT

Royal Totem Military Operation

The Royal Engineers are at it again.

After helping to establish the province 100 years ago, they will erect B.C.'s monument to the centenary in England.

City Engineer J. C. Garnett today sent them instructions on how to erect the 100-foot Royal Totem, en route to England as the province's centennial gift to Queen Elizabeth.

The whole operation will be a Royal Engineers' affair because Mr. Garnett also is a member of the British military arm.

He still holds the rank of honorary lieutenant-colonel after 12 years' service in the Royal Engineers, including six on active duty during the Second World War.

The instructions are based on methods devised by Mr. Garnett to raise the 137-foot World's Tallest Totem in Beacon Hill Park in 1956.

Mr. Garnett sent the suggestions to Lt.-Gen. Christopher Walkley, chief engineer of the British Army, with whom he was associated for 18 months in the British war office during the war.

A request to the Victoria Times for details on putting up the World's Tallest Totem was passed on to Mr. Garnett.

It came from G. S. Gibson, deputy agent-general for B.C. in the U.K., who reported "this is a new adventure for the Royal Engineers."

Two Admit Guilt As Car Crashed

Two men pleaded guilty in city police court to taking a car without the owner's consent early today after a near-wreck at Fountain Circle.

Terrence S. McCarthy, 31, of Nanaimo, and James H. Campbell, 20, of Work Point Baracks, were charged jointly.

Campbell also pleaded guilty to driving without a licence and careless driving.

All charges were remanded for sentence to Thursday.

Court was told the car was taken from Gladwell Motors Ltd., 1000-1010 St. 810, Nanaimo, driven north on Government to Hillside and smashed into a concrete curb and lamp standard.

Police said the car was going 35-40 miles an hour and made a skid mark more than 80 feet long.

Damage to the car was estimated at $700, to the lamp standard, $20.

Campbell and McCarthy were picked up at Bay and Bridge, to where they drove the damaged car.

Closest fires to this area are at Tofino, a small fire patrolled now by four men, and at Alert Bay, where 95 men are still engaged.

"Things aren't too serious as far as the number of fires goes, but conditions could change instantly," he stated.

Today's forestry service weather report forecasts intense drying throughout the southwestern section of the province Wednesday ... and no indication of any general rains.

There is extreme danger from fire in the Campbell River area, the forecast concluded.

At the present time MacMillan & Bloedel Ltd. has laid off about 1,800 men, Alaska Pine & Cellulose has closed the Holberg Camp on Northern Vancouver Island, laying off 100 men, and may close two additional camps in the same area.

The men are standing by the camps with only the cook house functioning, until the weekend, hoping for a break in the weather.

B.C. Forest Products Ltd. shut four camps today. They employ nearly 600 men. Three are reported to be located on Vancouver Island.

Rally to Honor 'Brigadier Ethel'

A woman who has spent most of her life in the movement will be honored Wednesday at a rally of The Salvation Army at the Citadel, 757 Pandora.

Brigadier Ethel Burnell served in Britain and Bermuda before coming to Canada to spend 11 years on the staff of the Salvation Army College in Toronto. In September, 1955, she was appointed secretary of the National Home League, a women's movement within the Army devoted to the advancement of home and community spiritual life.

2,400 Loggers Idled by Heat

Full Forest Closure Considered Imminent

An estimated 2,400 Vancouver Island loggers were driven from their jobs today by a growing threat of forest fires.

A general closure of forests in most parts of B.C. appeared almost certain as weather forecasters saw no indication of any general rains.

There will be intense drying throughout the southwestern section of the province Wednesday, they reported.

Three major logging operations on Vancouver Island have voluntarily shut down partially or completely.

All campfire and burning permits in Vancouver fire district, which includes Vancouver Island, were cancelled today by B.C. Forest Service.

The B.C. Forestry department has ordered only a partial closure in the Vancouver fire district and is permitting industrial operations between midnight and 1 p.m.

"But a full closure can be expected in the next few days unless relief comes earlier," a government spokesman said this morning.

TAKE RISK

"We take a calculated risk up to a certain point. Usually the early-morning shift order is followed by a full closure. The labor angle is one of our chief worries."

He added, a ban, if ordered, would not extend to use of provincial camp sites where fire places are provided, but use of other park areas probably would be curtailed.

Conditions in the Vancouver fire district were described by forestry officials today as "very hazardous."

NEW FIRES

In the district two new fires were reported this morning, bringing the current total to seven. All are under control.

Total of 123 men are carrying out patrol and mop-up duties.

Closest fires to this area are at Tofino, a small fire patrolled now by four men, and at Alert Bay, where 95 men are still engaged.

"Things aren't too serious as far as the number of fires goes, but conditions could change instantly," he stated.

Million-Dollar Fleet in Harbor For Swiftsure

Sleek ocean-going yachts valued at about $1,500,000 will be anchored in the Inner Harbor Thursday night for the international Swiftsure yachting classic which gets underway at 11 a.m. Friday.

Close to 40 entries are expected, largest field in the 136-mile event first held in 1930. Last year 23 yachts competed, a record at that time.

Four visiting yachts have arrived and 24 have already entered the race. Entries are received "almost up to the last minute," race officials said.

Record time in the Swiftsure was logged last year by the Seattle yacht Maruffa which made the course around the lighthouse in 25 hours 59 minutes.

Festivities will begin in the Inner Harbor Thursday, starting at 7 p.m. when Mayor Percy Scourrah will welcome visiting yachtsmen. A commentary will be given on the participating vessels; the Elks Club Band will provide music and laughs; the RCN will conduct the sunset ceremony on the lawn of the Legislative Buildings, and for the fifth year Dudley Wickett's Meistersingers will present a program of sea chanteys from the deck of the schooner Black Dog.

Entry from farthest away will be the Tascos 2, San Francisco, which came third in the race two years ago. Other entries will be from Portland, Seattle, Tacoma, Victoria and a 10-yacht fleet from Vancouver headed by club commodore, Elmer Palmer with Gometra. Deauvo will race for the Royal Victoria Yacht Club and HMCS Oriole for the RCN.

The Island Tug and Barge Co. deep-sea tug Sudbury will accompany the racing yachts, with press, radio and television personnel aboard monitoring results.

Control centre will be in the main window of Eaton's.

LAMPPOSTS in downtown Victoria will be all decked this weekend with the city's famous flower baskets. They will be on view for the big Canadian mayors' convention opening Sunday. Horace Lindsey, parks nursery foreman, is shown here inspecting the 550 baskets to be put in place this weekend.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

A Lovely Back Is an Asset; Keep It Straight for Beauty

For the next few days I want to give you a little back talk. A lovely back is one of woman's most valued assets. This is especially true today when so many women wear revealing play clothes, swim suits and evening gowns.

Of course, first we need a straight spine on which to hang our hopes for beauty. Round shoulders not only ruin internal organs but also a graceful carriage. This habit often is formed during childhood because of slumping over desks at school. These are sometimes the wrong height for the child. Poor posture may appear at teen age when growth is so rapid that fatigue sometimes occurs. Also, this is the time of developing curves and many young girls are self-conscious about them. Sometimes round shoulders are the result of illness or a poor state of health with their resulting weariness. No matter what the cause any woman who has pride in her appearance and in her health should try to improve this condition.

Special exercise and a determination which causes you to remind yourself to straighten up many times each day, are the remedies.

Also, we know that fat often accumulates over the shoulders across the back. This is most unsightly since it creates a roll around the brassiere. Usually this state of affairs goes along with general overweight but this is not always true. Sometimes a woman has the correct number of pounds but also battles this figure fault.

Exercise is your answer if this latter is the case. If you are overweight, count calories as well as exercise. Try this one. Lie on the floor on your back with your hips a foot or more away from the wall, depending on your height. Straighten your legs and place your heels on the wall in front of you. Cross your arms and extend the fingers of each hand in order to catch yourself with your hands. Lift the head from the floor and roll from side to side, feet still on the wall. Round your shoulders slightly. Catch yourself with your right hand as you roll to the left so that you will not go all the way over. Catch yourself with your left hand when you roll to the right.

If you would like to have my exercises to correct round shoulders, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 7 to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

FOR SAFETY SAKE

Refuse Lifts From the Careless Driver But Don't Nag Husband

OTTAWA (CP) — A pretty promoter of highway safety says that nagging a careless husband-driver will get you nowhere.

But refuse to drive with a careless driver — that's something else, says Mrs. Ethel McLellan of Toronto, director of the newly-formed women's activities bureau of the Ontario transport department's highway safety branch.

"The alternative of driving alone without a lady passenger is a pretty grim prospect for most men," Mrs. McLellan told a reporter.

She believes that most male drivers will take care — and a feminine passenger — rather than drive alone, carelessly.

Pioneering in her job to organize women for highway safety, Mrs. McLellan says women should learn the rules of the road and keep up with new traffic signals.

Children's safety education—

a good deal of it from parental example—also is part of a woman's responsibility, says Mrs. McLellan, who is a graduate of Queen's University.

OF SOMMERS CASE DOCUMENTS

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Sommers bribery-conspiracy trial dragged on in Supreme Court today with the Crown's chief witness, accountant Charles Eversfield, continuing to identify prosecution documents on which a 38-count indictment is mainly based.

Eversfield took the papers from the offices of one of the accused companies, Pacific Coast Services, when he left his bookkeeper's job there in 1955.

At one point this morning, he became so confused and took so long to sort out a group of several documents that Mr. Justice J. O. Wilson remarked: "Mr. Eversfield, if you find it impossible to put them in proper sequence, say so. Don't take all day. I don't think it's worth it."

LOCKPORT, Man. (CP)—Four infants, ranging in age from six months to five years, were burned to death early today in a fire that destroyed their three-storey home here.

Their mother suffered burns and was taken to hospital at Selkirk, five miles north of here. The father had left for work at Winnipeg, 17 miles south of Lockport, about one hour before the fire.

The victims, children of Mr. and Mrs. Florent Charette, were: Richard, 5; his sister, Brenda, 3, and brothers Victor, 20 months, and Dennis, six months.

Cause of the fire was not immediately known although neighbors said they heard an explosion about 9 a.m., and then saw the house enveloped in flames.

Mrs. Charette ran from the only door of the house into a field.

"Save my children," she screamed.

Her screams attracted two neighbors, Ross Hargus and Doug Brodie. Neither could enter the house through the door because of the fierce heat and flames.

Mr. Brodie chopped a hole in the rear of the building but again was kept out by flames.

Within an hour the house was destroyed and the bodies of the children could be seen.

Two of the children were in bed when the fire started and the youngest was in a baby carriage.

HOT 'N' DRY
ON U.S. CLOUDS

The Victoria weatherman is continuing to exercise his dry sense of humor—with a slight hedge while he keeps an eye on a mass of moist air over Oregon and Washington.

Forecast for the next 24 hours in continued warm, dry, with some high cloud.

Temperatures will be in the high 60s along the coastline. In the high 70s and low 80s in inland areas protected from the sea breeze.

There have been thunderstorms near Pendleton and Portland which might move in this direction later in the week.

Gas Blast Traps
Duplex Occupants

MONTREAL (UPI)—An explosion almost demolished a two-storey duplex dwelling in suburban Verdun today and police believe some of the residents were trapped in the wreckage.

The blast, believed to have been a natural gas explosion, levelled one section of the duplex and badly damaged the adjoining house.

In Ferry Strike

(See also Page 5)

Appointment of a federal mediator in an attempt to settle the 10-day-old Seafarers' International Union strike against the Canadian Pacific Steamship service was announced today by Labor Minister Michael Starr in Ottawa.

Mr. Starr appointed Eric G. Taylor of Toronto as mediator following representations from his colleagues and from private and public agencies in B.C.

There was no comment from either company or union this morning.

Three seamen's unions involved in pay disputes with CPR were scheduled to meet with the company for further talks in Vancouver this afternoon.

Earlier today, a top official of one of the unions involved in pay negotiation with Black Ball Ferries Ltd., accused the company of threatening to curtail services between Vancouver and Nanaimo if the unions refused to permit settlement of disputes by compulsory arbitration.

Richard Greaves, national secretary of the National Association of Marine Engineers of Canada, told the Times the company delivered the ultimatum at a meeting between Black Ball, the engineers, the Seafarers' International Union and Canadian Merchant Service Guild in Vancouver this morning.

He said Black Ball called on the unions to accept compulsory arbitration, and when the suggestion was turned down by all three associations, they then "hinted they would have to curtail services, which would result in loss of summer jobs."

Mr. Greaves' charge was termed "surprising" by Black Ball president Col. George Paulin.

"I was not at the meeting," he said, "but as far as I know Black Ball has no plans to curtail services."

Col. Paulin added negotiations between the company and the union would "continue until there is a settlement" and he did not expect a strike.

Low Quits
Active
Politics

By DON ATTFIELD

OTTAWA (CP)—Solon Low is bowing out of active politics. The stage for the Social Credit leader's swan song was a meeting Monday night of Ottawa Young Progressive Conservatives.

He said he is handing in his resignation this week and returning to southern Alberta to find the life he left 23 years ago when he emigrated from England.

Health and age were given as his reasons.

No significance was to be attached to his making the announcement at a Progressive Conservative meeting. The young PCs had invited him to speak and it was his last public appearance before resigning.

Social Credit's 19 representatives all were defeated by Conservatives in the March 31 PC sweep to power. Mr. Low lost his own Peace River seat, after holding it from 1945.

He said he has accepted a teaching position at Raymond High School. He was principal of the same school in the burgeoning community in 1935 when he entered the provincial legislature to serve 10 years with William Aberhart's original Social Credit government.

He spoke with his usual fire and sharpness although his voice softened when he began

Pflimlin Refuses To Step Down

PARIS (UPI)—Gen. Charles de Gaulle announced today he is preparing to take over the government in a legal manner.

But left-wing opposition to him mushroomed so swiftly it increased the threat of civil war.

Premier Pierre Pflimlin, his authority crumbling by the hour, refused to step down and decided to let the National Assembly choose tonight between him and de Gaulle.

A cabinet spokesman revealed the premier's decision after Pflimlin held two meetings with President Rene Coty and long sessions with his own cabinet.

The cabinet source, revealing Pflimlin's desperate answer to de Gaulle's bid to take over power, said Pflimlin personally met with the general Monday night.

MORE SERIOUS: The former wartime resistance leader warned the premier then that the threat of civil war was becoming more serious with every passing hour.

Other reports from Algiers said three battalions of insurgent paratroopers had been ready to jump into southern France if de Gaulle had not made an open move today to end the crisis.

In making his bid, de Gaulle seemed confident of success, urged the nation to remain calm and promised quick contact with the insurgent generals in Algeria in whom "I express my confidence."

His overtures to the Algerian rebels seemed likely to settle any trouble from the right, since the military-civilian junta there has based its stand on a demand for de Gaulle's return to power. But trouble loomed from the left.

The Socialists of the National Assembly voted 112 to 3 in a caucus against accepting de Gaulle as premier. Without their support, he could not constitutionally win power.

Communist parliamentary chief Jacques Duclos declared that "a new Vichy is being prepared," a reference to the discredited wartime regime set up by Marshal Philippe Petain at the central France town of Vichy.

The Communist-led General Confederation of Labor called off railroad workers at noon and demanded a general strike across the country for later in the day.

The strike fizzled before it started. It produced only momentary delays on electric lines and subways were unaffected.

The Communists then switched their tactics. They called on "the workers and all Republicans of Paris and all the Parisian area" to demonstrate Wednesday near the Bastille Square, where France's 1789 revolution started.

There were predictions that de Gaulle, hero of French wartime resistance and the first provisional president of Free France before the founding of the Fourth Republic, would return to power in a matter of days or even hours.

FRENCH TROUBLE SPOTS

Grenade Bursts
On Algeria Mob

TIZI OUZOU, Algeria—A hand grenade exploded today in a throng of 20,000 Moslems gathered outside the city hall for a rally by the pro-Gaullist military-civilian junta.

Several persons were injured, but there was no panic in the crowd of Berber tribesmen. They had been brought down from the Kabylian mountains to hear speeches by Gen. Raoul Salan, head of Algeria's insurgent French rulers, and Gaullist deputy Jacques Soustelle.

A Moslem mayor from a nearby community was addressing the crowd when the grenade went off. Ambulances went to the scene and carried off several victims dripping with blood.

A French officer told a reporter the explosion was caused accidentally by a military grenade carried by a French soldier.

After the grenade incident the crowd began chanting "vive de Gaulle" and singing the Marseillaise.

Garrison Menaced

TUNIS—A French spokesman said today that the Tunisian authorities are adopting "menacing" measures against French garrisons.

The spokesman said that at Gafsa, in central Tunisia, and at Sfax, on the east coast, the Tunisians are building up their armed forces and evacuating all their civilians from the areas.

Corsica Coup Complete

BASTIA, Corsica—All Corsica today was in the hands of the French Army's anti-government revolt leaders.

The uprising, which spread here from Algeria on Saturday, had encompassed the entire island birthplace of Napoleon.

Col. Robert Thomazo, special envoy from Gen. Raoul Salan's Algerian headquarters, was unanimously acclaimed as military and civil commander.

Navy Manoeuvres

MARSEILLE—Twelve destroyers and five submarines sailed from Toulon naval base early today for what navy officials there said would be a month's manoeuvres in the Atlantic.

They will rendezvous at sea with their flagship the cruiser Degradee, and its escorting vessels, which are due to leave Toulon late today or early Wednesday.

People and Things

LONDON—American singer Jerry Lee Lewis and his 13-year-old bride packed up and headed for home today as British theatres cancelled the rock 'n' roll shouter's tour in the face of rising public resentment.

"It's all very unfortunate," said Oscar Davis, manager of the three married Lewis, "and there could be a reaction in the States."

Lewis was greeted in London Monday night with catcalls, boos and shouts of "go home, you cradle snatcher."

A sinister silence greeted his first number.

"Yawl seem awful quiet out there," drawled Jerry Lee. "I sho hope yawl ain't as half dead as yawl sound."

In the parlance of show business, Jerry Lee was asking for it.

"Go home, you crumb," someone shouted.

"Go home, baby snatcher," yelled someone else.

"We've had enough of you," chorused several angry young men.

Lewis put down his head, played away at his piano, sang above the din and finished his show.

Later, a crowd gathered outside his dressing room and bawled shouts through a key hole.

PLYMOUTH, England — "Smellyvision" made its debut here Sunday.

It's a television set containing scent bottles that release their odors to tie in what's shown on the screen. An electrical impulse from the transmitter triggers a waft of ozone for a seascape, the odor of flowers when there's a garden scene.

The pioneer model has four smells so far.

Its inventor: William Rose.

ROTHESHAM, Eng. — Dr. Marion Tinsley, 31, a mathematician from Columbus, Ohio, won the world checkers championship here Saturday.

He defeated Britain's Derek Oldbury in the 34th of their series of 40 games to take a winning 9-1 lead. Twenty-four games have been drawn.

OAKLAND, Calif. — Hiram Franklin Deaner sat back contentedly after dinner Monday night and lit the 32,486th cigar of his life. It was the first in a birthday package of 107—one for each of Deaner's years. Deaner, a retired piano tuner, figures he's been smoking a cigar a day since he was 16.

CHICAGO—A singer has been awarded $55,000 damages because a car accident dropped her voice from high to mezzo soprano. Mrs. Ruth Bowers, Gallatin, 41, testified in court that because of her injuries she lost her job as a radio singer and is no longer able to obtain private singing engagements.

NEW YORK — Mrs. Lillias Dulles Hinshaw, daughter of State Secretary John Foster Dulles, will graduate tonight from Union Theological Seminary, looking toward a career in the Presbyterian ministry.

Two years ago Avery R. Dulles, the state secretary's youngest son, was ordained a Roman Catholic priest. Dulles himself as a prominent Presbyterian layman.

Mrs. Hinshaw, 43, is the wife of Robert Hinshaw, a public relations executive who is a Quaker. They have three children.

200 GUARDS FOR NEGRO'S GRADUATION

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI) — More than 200 National Guardsmen and police will be on hand tonight when an 18-year-old Negro boy becomes the first of his race to receive a diploma from heretofore segregated Central High School.

Ernest Green, one of nine Negroes admitted to the school last September, will be the lone Negro receiving a diploma in commencement exercises in the high school stadium.

The stadium served last fall as a bivouac for army troops ordered by President Eisenhower to enforce court-ordered integration in the face of segregationist-inspired riots.

A guardsman with a night-stick followed Green Monday as he went through rehearsal for tonight's program. When Green's name was called to receive his imaginary diploma, a few students laughed, but most of them applauded.

Divided Ceylon Torn by Riots

State of Emergency Proclaimed As Fight Flares Over Language

COLOMBO, Ceylon (Reuters) — A state of emergency was proclaimed throughout Ceylon today in the face of fresh clashes between the country's two main language groups.

The action came following the death of 18 persons in the last five days in riots between the Sinhalese and Tamil communities in the east and north-central provinces. Three persons were killed and several more injured when police opened fire on a violent mob in Polonnaruwa, north-central Ceylon.

The government also banned the federal party, which claims to represent the Tamil-speaking population, and the recently-formed Jaika Vimukti Peramuna organization of Sinhalese.

A dusk-to-dawn curfew was imposed in Colombo until further notice after a night of arson, looting and assault sparked by demands to give the Tamil language equal status with the official Sinhalese.

Security forces were reported to have opened fire on mobs in the turbulent eastern and north-central provinces and towns in the central, northwestern and western provinces.

SELF-RULE SET FOR SINGAPORE

LONDON (Reuters) — British and Singapore officials agreed today on the "substance of the provisions" of a new constitution which will give the island colony full internal self-government.

The agreement was announced in a press communiqué.

The meetings, begun two weeks ago, were of the conference's technical working party made up of five Singapore delegates and senior colonial office officials and legal experts.

This morning a train heading towards Colombo with office workers from the suburbs was stopped at several points and passengers were beaten up.

Buses ran practically empty, with most office workers choosing the security of their homes to possible attacks on the streets.

All bars and taverns have been closed till further orders.

Palls of smoke were still rising from burned stores in many parts of Colombo after the night's rioting.

Christian Democrats Fail To Win Majority in Italy

ROME (AP) — Italy's pro-Western Christian Democrats boasted their parliamentary strength in the weekend general election but once more fell short of a majority in the face of matching gains by the Leftist forces.

The Christian Democrats appeared to have emerged from Sunday's and Monday's voting strong enough to continue to govern Italy as they have since the war, but will have to proceed cautiously in a coalition for lack of a majority.

Seal-O-Matic Shingles hold tight even in HURRICANE WINDS!

The only self-sealing asphalt shingles proved on over 300,000 homes — cost as little as $14.50 a month

Johns-Manville patented Seal-O-Matic Asphalt Shingles have a continuous stripe of special adhesive on the underside of each shingle. The sun's heat automatically seals down the entire shingle edge and bonds it so firmly that it holds fast even in gale winds. The continuous seal also prevents rain and snow from being driven up under the shingle and thereby causing leaks.

See the complete color range at your J-M dealer, or, write for free folder to Dept. BA-NS, Canadian Johns-Manville, Port Credit, Ontario.

Only J-M Seal-O-Matic Shingles offer all of these features

- The adhesive stripe across entire tab of every shingle provides maximum sealing.
- The adhesive stripe on the underside of every shingle provides natural downward sealing.
- The adhesive stripe at the lower edge of each shingle seals the critical first row of shingles.

STUDENTS SNAG PANAMA TALKS

PANAMA (AP) — Strong National Guard patrols were stored calm in Panama during the weekend but talks between protesting students and the government apparently broke down over new student demands.

The students insist that everybody jailed after the rioting should be released as a condition to further peace negotiations.

In the June Journal

"The little Prince"

... Why is he unlike any other
English royal child?

Now, in the June Ladies' Home Journal, you'll read why Queen Elizabeth has turned her back on the thousand-year-old tradition of royal tutorage and has sent her heir off to be educated as a commoner.

You'll read how the prince spends a typical day... find out how the royal family views his exuberant antics. And you'll learn why, though the public has stopped criticizing his education, there is violent opposition from most members of the court. Exactly how much emancipation from the past does the Queen hope to accomplish for herself and her children? It's all in "Growing Up to be King."

scheduled another meeting with Black Ball later in the week.

Earlier, Mr. Greaves told the Times his union "did not take kindly to arbitration of any sort," while a statement rejecting CPR's arbitration suggestion was issued today by Capt. W. E. Meadows, agent for the guild representing 40 masters and mates who voted for strike action in a pay dispute with the line.

The union statement read: "We are quite willing to accept the majority findings of the conciliation board, even though this report was not in accordance with the guild's nominee to the board who felt that higher standards were warranted."

The conciliation board majority report recommended 19 per cent. The guild asked for 25 per cent.

SIMILAR DEMANDS

The unions have made similar demands against Black Ball. Both companies have offered 8 per cent across the board to the three groups but Black Ball reopened negotiations after the two officer associations voted for a strike.

Transport Minister George Hees said in Ottawa this morning that any essential medical supplies will be provided Vancouver Island despite the seamen's strike.

"The government will see to it that there is no hardship due to lack of medical supplies," Mr. Hees said in the Commons in reply to a question by Harry McQuillan (PC Comox-Alberni), about preservation of essential services for the Island.

FRANCE

miles east of Paris, for a presidential summons—his car prepared for an immediate take-off.

The balky and unpredictable French national assembly was debating Pflimlin's sweeping bill for constitutional reform.

The bill would make it almost impossible to overthrow a French government and it was the reported plan that Pflimlin would resign, once the bill was passed, to make way for de Gaulle's investiture in his place.

But informed sources said Pflimlin told Coty he might well be defeated tonight on the bill.

CHANCES SLIM

A defeat would mean Pflimlin's automatic resignation and a summons from Coty to De Gaulle.

But under those conditions De Gaulle's chances for success would be slim.

In that case, France could continue its plunge toward chaos, with what many fear would be either a military government or a Communist-dominated "popular front."

speaking of the future. He said Social Credit is not destroyed.

"But the movement is going to require the leadership of a younger man; unimpaired in health, I feel I should step down."

Mr. Low, 58, suffered a heart attack in November, 1955.

"I feel I am entering a new period of life, in which I can look at things from the outside."

"I may do some writing, perhaps some careful studying, and I may write an occasional letter to Prime Minister John Diefenbaker with a few suggestions."

Pilot From U.S.

At Controls
Of Downed Bomber

JAKARTA (AP)—The Indonesian army said tonight the pilot of a rebel Indonesian bomber shot down by government forces is an American.

The army identified him as Allan Lawrence Pope of Miami. The army said Pope was one of two airmen captured after their U.S.-built B-26 bomber was shot down in flames near Ambon May 18 while attacking Indonesian government ships.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Netherlands protested today against reported U.S. arms deliveries to Indonesia.

New Officers Installed By Nanaimo Labor Council

Greetings from Victoria Labor Council were extended by president Robert Barrie when new officers of Nanaimo and District Labor Council were installed Monday.

Mr. Barrie congratulated the officials at the Nanaimo ceremony and invited them to Victoria to meet labor representatives here when their duties allowed them to visit the city.

Installation of officers was made by William Gauld, Vancouver Island CLC representative, while CLC regional director T. C. Gooderham presented the council's new charter.

Former secretary-treasurer Jocko Colwell was elected president by acclamation.

Others installed in office were: A. J. Smith, Nanaimo, and W. T. Morgan, Ladysmith, vice-presidents; George Cole, Port Alberni, secretary-treasurer; Carl Anshelm, Port Alberni, recording secretary; George McKnight, Port Alberni, sergeant-at-arms; Dave Block, Stan Park and L. J. Randall, directors.

Baylor Boy Acquired

TORONTO (CP)—Larry Cowart has been signed by Toronto Argonauts of the Big Four Football League. A centre and linebacker, Cowart was fourth draft choice of Chicago Cardinals of the U.S. National Football League in his last season at Baylor University.

JAVELIN ACE BADLY HURT DURING DRILL

WOODBRIDGE, N.J. (AP)—A javelin thrown by a teammate critically injured the ace javelin thrower at Woodbridge High School, Monday night.

Robert Hartman, 17, was in poor condition in hospital today with a pierced lung.

School officials said Hartman was removing his shirt when Michael Lesko, 17, let his javelin fly during a warm-up session. The spear flew 155 feet and buried itself four inches in the boy's upper stomach.

Champ Goes Home

TORONTO (UPI)—Canadian Champ, bought four years ago for $7,500, and the second-highest money-winner among Canadian thoroughbreds, is returning to the farm where he was born. E. P. Taylor, who originally owned the son of Windfields Bolesteo, bought the champ back and will use him for breeding. It was disclosed Monday. The five-year-old earned $151,705, second only to Taylor's Canadiana, which won $173,116.

Residents to Fight For Forshaw Beach

Gorge residents are planning a mass defence of their Forshaw Road beach.

They are expected to approach provincial lands and forests supervisor C. T. W. Hyslop to protest a suggestion that the beach be scrapped.

The suggestion was contained in a letter from Mr. Hyslop read at Esquimalt council Monday night.

It apparently supported the campaign of a single local resident whose property borders on the beach. Two years ago she fought an unsuccessful action at the municipal level, protesting noise and sunbathing by children on her lawn.

Council deplored the idea of provincial action being taken "at the behest of one individual," but learned that the lands superintendent had been contacted and was "very sympathetic."

Mr. Hyslop said today the letter was definitely not an order but merely "suggested in view of the development of the nearby Kinsmen beach and play area that council reconsider retaining the present beach" which, he said, today "is not the most desirable in the world."

The beach was built by residents of the area, using logs and sand supplied by the Esquimalt council.

Ibbotson Third In Two-Mile Trot

LONDON (AP)—Gordon Pirie of England won a two-mile international invitation race in 8:46.4 Monday before a crowd of 25,800 at the White City Stadium.

Pirie battled Hungary's Miklos Szabo down the final stretch to win by inches. Szabo was given the same time.

Derek Ibbotson of England, world's fastest miler, whose time of 3:57.2 is awaiting official ratification, made amends for his failure to qualify in a regional mile heat of these British games Saturday. Ibbotson fought fiercely through the two-mile race today and took third place in 8:47.4.

Two Get Broken Feet As Motorcycle Skids

A motorcyclist and his passenger each received broken feet when their bike skidded on an oil slick and struck a curb at Midland and Ripon Saturday afternoon.

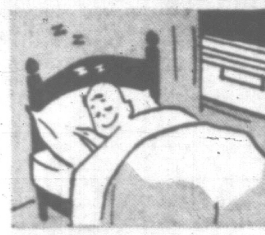

Injured men were AB Dennis C. Gillespie, HMCS Ontario, with a broken bone in his left foot, and Donald Gibson, 1329 Stanley, treated at Jubilee Hospital for a broken right foot.

Gillespie was taken to HMCS Naden Hospital.

Cadillac

He's In for a Wonderful Surprise!

For many years, this man has had his heart set on some day owning a Cadillac—and he has decided to come in and see for himself how close that happy day might be.

Well, he's walking in on a wonderful surprise! For in just a few minutes, he will be listening to a combination of facts that may well mean his waiting has come to an end.

He will learn, for instance, what a modest investment it requires to take possession of a new Cadillac today—and how surprisingly close it is in cost to motor cars that make no pretention to Cadillac's quality or reputation.

Then, he will discover how eminently practical a Cadillac is to own and to operate—and how unusually free it is from the needs of service.

And, finally, he will find his Cadillac dealer wonderfully accommodating both in trading in his present car—and in obtaining prompt delivery.

And how doubly fortunate it is that all of these practical advantages of Cadillac ownership should be so pronounced at a time when all the personal rewards of Cadillac ownership are so great.

For this latest "car of cars" is so wonderful from every standpoint, that it has deepened the loyalty of even the most experienced Cadillac owners.

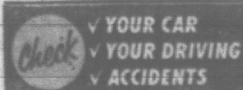

That's why we say—he's in for a wonderful surprise! Just as we know you will be once you have the thrilling facts about Cadillac today.

We suggest you visit your dealer soon—inspect Cadillac's exclusive Fleetwood coachcrafting—and learn about all the new models, including the distinguished Eldorado Brougham.
